U. S. RELIES ON MORAL FORCE IN FAR EAST

ical Measures Taken by

CHINA WATCHES AMERICA

Climax Seen in Appeal to War Parties to Keep Shanghai Neutral

BULLETIN

Shanghai (AP)—The shadow of the war cloud seemed to hang over Shanghai Tuesday as the city received reports that the Cantonese army had been turned back by defending forces under the northern General Pai Pao-shan, and was left in retreat some 200 miles away.

The result has been that the proposals for neutralization of the international settlement here and foreign plans for defense of the city in case of emergency became less pressing questions.

Using the waterways west of Shanghai as his means of transportation, General Pai, one of the leaders of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang's forces, joined his troops with the main northern force, in the Yenchow region. Then, as the right wing of the northern army, he attacked, capturing Chueow, formally held by the nationalists and permitting the entire line to advance.

Washington.—The United States is relying on moral force, while Great Britain is preparing it necessary to use physical force to protect the lives and property of foreigners in Shanghai.

Which of these two theories will be successful in persuading the rival generals to do the fighting outside a neutral zone depends on whether the Chinese think the diplomacy of President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg can influence Great Britain, France, Japan and foreign governments generally, or whether the United States alone in the desire to recover the assault of the Chinese to eliminate extra-territorial rights.

If any foreign power has traditionally been friendly to China, has failed to exploit China, by seizing territory as reparation, and has at the same time encouraged the development of a republican form of government, that country is the United States.

U. S. NATURAL LEADER

Other governments have a record of more or less selfish interest in China.
This makes the United States the natural leader in the rivalry between China and the outside world. Mr. Coolidge did not order a large expedition of troops as did Great Britain, though he held a small number of marines ready to assist in protecting American lives if the emergency should develop.
The climax of the American policy has come in the appeal to the Chinese to demand for government a natural zone. This means of course that the United States is speaking for the British, French, Japanese and in fact, all foreign residents of the city. If the Chinese leaders feel that the United States will actively support the Chinese demand for government abandonment of extra-territorial rights, they will bow to moral force. If they think the American proposal is a gesture to gain time for the outside governments to bring their military forces to far-off
China they will go ahead.

Fortunately there are among the Chinese leaders many who are familiar with American good will and what it means. They will not be quick to alienate American sympathy and possible American aid in a reorganization some day of Chinese finances. If extra-territorial rights are eliminated, the British to begin a large sized military operation for the defense of Shanghai.

APPEAL TO COMMON SENSE

The decision of the United States government to appeal to the common sense of the Chinese leaders is a natural thing. It is the other hand, any measure of physical force that may become necessary. Having stated the case so that American public opinion may be thoroughly informed, the American government will feel supported if it becomes vital that American forces be landed along with the British to begin a large sized military operation for the defense of Shanghai.

REMYINGTON TYPEWRITER

AGAIN PAYS DIVIDENDS

New York (AP)—Dividends were resumed Tuesday on the common stock of the Remington typewriter company at an annual rate of $5 a share, with a quarterly disbursement of $1.25, the previous payment having been $1 a share on Oct. 1, 1915. It is payable March 31, to holders of record March 12. Regular quarterly dividends of $2 a share on the second preferred and $1.75 on the first preferred also were authorized.

NO 3RD TERM FOR COOLIDGE, BUTLER PREDICTS

PROPHET?

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Columbia university president, who predicted Monday night that President Coolidge will not be a candidate for a third term. He also expressed his belief that a wet candidate will be elected next year.

"SHORTS" IN FRANTIC BIDDING TO COVER RAIL COMMITMENTS

Common and Preferred Stock of Wheeling and Lake Erie Soar Rapidly

New York (AP)—Panic-stricken "shorts" in the common and preferred stocks of the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad, faced with ruin as a result of the passing of control of that railroad from the Rockefeller interests to the New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Nickel Plate railroads and the withdrawal of large blocks of stocks from the open market, bid frantically against each other on the New York Stock exchange Tuesday in an effort to cover their commitments, the common stock soaring 35 points to 130, or more than four times the year's low, and the preferred 3 1/2 points to 93 in the first hour of trading.

ACTIVE SPECULATION

Meanwhile, active speculation broke out in the other rails likely to figure in new consolidations, and in a selected list of industrials, early gains running from one to five points.

Erratic fluctuations were duplicated in the common and second preferred stocks of the Western Maryland in which the Baltimore and Ohio has increased its interest to 50 per cent of the total stock outstanding. The common opened at 1 1/2 points lower, at 38 1/2, rallied to 42 1/2, and was back around the opening price at the end of the first hour. The second preferred opened 1/4 lower at 57, rallied to 40 1/2 and quickly lost its gain. Chicago Great Western common and preferred and Bangor and Aroostook touched the highest prices in years, all up 3 points or thereabouts.

NEENAH RESIDENT CAN'T

COLLECT FOR FIRE LOSS

Madison (AP)—Because the holder of a fire insurance policy moved from the place of its original framing without a written agreement with the agent, the insured cannot recover on losses suffered in the new place, the supreme court ruled Tuesday.

In an opinion dealing with the case of Oliver M. Stillman, against the Northern River Insurance Co., the United States fire insurance Co., and Arthur Giebel, appealed from the Fond du Lac circuit court, the court held that Stillman by moving from Fond du Lac to Neenah with only a verbal agreement with the agent, Mr. Giebel, could not recover on his fire insurance policy. Giebel's belongings were lost in a fire shortly after he moved to Neenah.
The written agreement of such change must be filed with the policy
the court stated.

SAYS COMMON SENSE WILL DIRECT CAL

Columbia University Head Believes Next President Will Be Wet

New York (AP)—Nicholas Murray
Butler, Republican, president of Columbia university, expects that President Coolidge will decline to run for reelection next year. It is also his view that no man not frankly wet can be elected. Speaking at a meeting of the Riverside Republican club Monday night, Butler said:

"Although I have no knowledge that the president has ever referred to this matter in any way, either directly or indirectly, yet as a working Republican who is both a personal friend and a political supporter of President Coolidge, I am taking it for granted that when he thinks the right time has come, he will make public statement of his unwillingness to have his name considered in connection with the Republican presidential nomination of 1928. One of the president's strongest characteristics is his common sense, and common sense dictates this course."

"CONVICTION OF PEOPLE"

"One of the deepest and most persistent convictions of the American people is that no president should have three terms of office."
Dr. Butler said prohibition, farm relief and foreign policy would be the issues of the campaign.

"The notion that either Governor Smith or Governor Ritchie, should be the Democratic candidate, can be defeated by a Republican who is not openly opposed to prohibition. It is quite groundless," the educator continued. "For the first time since 1884, it seems likely that the presidential election will be settled in 1928 by the vote of the city of New York."

MUST CARRY NEW YORK

"If the Republican candidate is to be elected in 1928 he must carry the state of New York and the state of New York can be carried only by a candidate who is so strong in the city of New York that he will keep the adverse majority down to 250,000 or 300,000 at most."

"Any candidate of the Anti-Saloon league or the Ku Klux Klan or anyone who tries to dodge the prohibition issue," Dr. Butler said, would find arrayed against him New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Montana, Nevada and Wyoming, with 212 electoral votes, and not improbably also California and Minnesota with 25 electoral votes.

CAN'T CHECK STAMPS IN BALLARD OFFICE

Auditors Report Theft Possible in Public Property Department of State

Madison (AP)—Lack of control over stamps was cited Tuesday by auditors of the department of public property in reporting to Clinton B. Ballard, superintendent, as the "greatest defect"
of the system now in use.

RECORD OF CARS

"Most departments have an accurate record of cars and trucks, but there has been no central control which could be consulted for full information on all state-owned vehicles. While we have not attempted to determine the practical necessity of cars in the various departments we do feel that there is room for more economy and closer control in this direction."

The lower court ruled that the two daughters of Adam Kurasthas, a widow and then committed suicide were not entitled to the $5,000 bequest of the widow to Kurasthas. The slayer was not aware of the provisions of the will the court pointed out, but "the widow was deprived of her sacred right to change the will in accordance with her own volition."

"The equitable doctrine that a man
shall not profit by his own wrong deeds," the court said, "dates back to the history of the common law and it is as old as equity itself."

The two daughters, both minors in Green at the time of the crime, were not entitled to share in the bequest because "the will became wholly inoper-ative at the time of the widow's death,"
the court said. Kurasthas, infatuated with Mrs. Wilkins, slew her when his intentions were not received. It was said the widow had an estate of $25, 600, of which the portion was willed to her admirer before the crime.

Other Wives? Yes! Zulu Girl? No! Revolt Fails

Manila (AP)—The American-educated Princess Tarhata Kiram was willing enough to share her husband, Datu Tahil, Moro rebel chief, with his three other wives, but to allow a comely Zulu girl to shower affections on him—ah! No, no, no, no!

That, in substance, is the reason for the downfall of Datu Tahil. So say dispatches received here Tuesday from Jolo Island, scene of the recent drama of love, rebellion, flight and capture. It was related that as soon as it became known to the sultan of Zulu that Tahil, one of his chiefs, was in rebellion against the Philippine government, the sultan sent his favorite niece, the princess, to the scene of conflict, summoning Tahil to the royal palace for a conference looking toward a peaceful settlement of the difficulties which caused the insurrection.

Princess Harhata, arriving at the fort where Tahil had dug in with 200 of his armed followers, found him in the process of taking a bath. "That in itself was not so bad, but the princess incidentally discovered that a comely young woman was scrubbing his back."

Being the fourth and favorite wife of Tahil, the princess objected. "The royal lady, a graduate of the University of Illinois, seized a pail of the chief's bath water and threw it in the face of the accommodating young woman. She then seized a knife and attacked Datu Tahil's trousers which were lying nearby. In a moment they were in shreds. They were the only trousers Tahil had with him. He positively could not attend the conference at the royal palace without trousers and so the negotiations were held up. The sultan, the story goes, waited until his royal patience was exhausted and then believing one of his chiefs had ignored a command, sent word to the Philippine constabulary to go ahead and attack Tahil if they cared to.

They learned that the princess was inside and stove off the attack for several days. Finally Tahil and the princess fled with her followers, but leaving most of the rebels to face the fire. Special correspondents reported 60 Moros were killed in the attack.
Official reports listed the dead at 35.
The princess later was found exhausted and penitent, wandering on a mountainside, but her husband was nowhere about.

CATHOLIC CLERGY HONORS NEW BISHOP

Rt. Rev. Theodore Reverman to Be Installed at Superior Wednesday

Superior (AP)—A crowd of several hundred city sons and school children greeted the Rt. Rev. Theodore H. Re-verman as he stepped off the train at 7:35 Tuesday morning.

Members of the Superior Catholic clergy were at the station. Ten priests from Louisville and seven men and women, former members of Bishop Reverman's congregation in Louisville also arrived with the bishop. The Rev. A. J. Jazdzewski and the Rev.
Father Clarence of Superior, also arrived Tuesday morning. They met Bishop Reverman at Chicago and accompanied him to Superior.

Bishop Reverman stepped off the train. The new bishop will be installed at services to be held at 10 o'clock
Wednesday morning at the Sacred Heart cathedral. The Rt. Rev. Sebastian G. Messmer, archbishop of Milwaukee, will consecrate him. Among those who will be present at the services will be: Rt. Rev. Augustin Dowling, archbishop of St. Paul; Rt.
Rev. Thomas A. Welsh, bishop of Duluth; Rt. Rev. John A. Floersch, bishop of Louisville, Ky.; Rt. Rev. Paul P.
Rhode, bishop of Green Bay; Rt. Rev.
Joseph G. Pinton, bishop of Green-Bay; and Rt. Rev. Joseph Chartrand of Indianapolis.

CITIES IN ILLINOIS AGAIN FIGHT RISING WATERS OF RIVER

Bulwarks of Sandbags Rise as Illinois River Threatens Large Area

Chicago (AP)—Bulwarks of sandbags rose again Tuesday along the course of the Illinois river, surging toward the Mississippi under the impetus of thawing ice and heavy rains, menacing towns and farming country just beginning to recover from last fall's disastrous floods.

At Beardstown, which was completely under water for several weeks last fall, merchants and townspeople again were called to serve in volunteer patrols as water began to rise in basements.

Small craft in the high water had passed Peru and La Salle Tuesday and was bearing down on Peoria where preparations were made to battle a 23-foot stage expected within 24 hours. The river rose an inch an hour for a time Monday night.

Hundreds of acres have been inundated along the stream's course in the north central part of the state and transportation is handicapped.
One flood death was reported from Ottawa where 11-year-old boy drowned in a ravine filled by overflow waters.

Century-Old Code Quoted In Bequest To Murderer

Madison (AP)—Century-old civil codes were quoted by the supreme court Tuesday in affirming a decision of the Rock-co court in regard to the disposition of a will favoring a mur-derer.

The lower court ruled that the two daughters of Adam Kurasthas, a widow and then committed suicide were
not entitled to the $5,000 bequest of
the widow to Kurasthas. The slayer
was not aware of the provisions of the
will the court pointed out, but "the widow was deprived of her sacred right to change the will in accordance
with her own volition."

"The equitable doctrine that a man
shall not profit by his own wrong
deeds," the court said, "dates back to
is as old as equity itself."

The two daughters, both minors in Green at the time of the crime, were
not entitled to share in the bequest because "the will became wholly inoper-ative at the time of the widow's death,"
the court said. Kurasthas, infatuated with Mrs. Wilkins, slew her when his intentions were not received. It was said the widow had an estate of $25, 600, of which the portion was willed to
her admirer before the crime.

DAUGHERTY IS PICTURED AS GRAFT TAKER

Buckner Assails Former Attorney General in Opening Address of Trial

New York (AP)—A picture of Harry M. Daugherty as an attorney general who stooped to graft while sworn to enforce the law, was sketched Tuesday by United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner in his opening address at the trial of Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian.

"We will show you," Buckner said,
"that Jess W. Smith, who later committed suicide in Daugherty's Washington home, was his agent in the transfer of $7,000,000 of the assets of the American Metal company to Richard Merton, a German who came over here and negotiated with John T. King, who was a Republican national committeeman until he died last June, for the return of that enemy-owned property."

"We will show it, not by Merton's testimony, for he will tell you he paid money only to King and talked only to King and Smith and Miller, but by tracing some of the $391,000 of Liberty bonds, the very ones Merton gave to King, to the bank of Daugherty's brother, Mal S. Daugherty in Washington Courthouse, Ohio.
Buckner's opening was punctuated with interruptions by defense attorneys.

HAMBRECHT AGAINST LOWERING AGE FOR SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Measure Would Stamp Legislature as Stepping Backward, Educator Says

Madison (AP)—George P. Ham-brecht, director of state vocational education, Tuesday declared that he would not support the legislative bill advocated by Senator Walter S. Goodland, Racine, to lower the age for compulsory vocational school attendance.

Such a measure, he said, would stamp the legislature as having taken a "backward step. I will appear for the working children, as always," Mr.
Hambrecht said.

The proposed bill would lower the age from 18 to 16 years.

A bill, introduced by John C. Schumann, senator from Watertown, asked that all farm animals with a few exceptions be exempt from taxation.
The present laws provide for the taxation of property valued at more than $25. Schumann's bill would eliminate this tax. The exemption from taxation is in case of fur-bearing animals.

HORTONVILLE STORE ENTERED BY THIEVES

Prowlers Secure $51.58 in Cash; Authorities Fail to Find Clues

Thieves Monday night entered the Platten Produce Co., Hortonville, ransacked the safe, and secured $51.58 in cash, an alarm clock and a revolver.
A report of the burglary was made early Tuesday morning to Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke by J. P. Platten, manager of the Hortonville firm.

Otto Wickert, under sheriff, W.
Shank, deputy sheriff and Police Sgt.
James H. Moore, fingerprint expert, immediately went to Hortonville to pick up any possible clues which might lead to the arrest of the thieves.
They returned about noon and reported that no identification marks had been found.

A number of fingerprints discovered on a window pane were examined by Sgt. Moore, but all were identified as those of Mr. Platten. No strange finger prints were found.

Entrance was gained through a window, the prowlers breaking the glass and opening the lock from the inside.
The safe door was opened without resistance, the thieves familiar with the combination, according to authorities.

The burglary was discovered early Tuesday morning by Harland Moredith, an employee of the firm. He notified Mr. Platten, and the latter telephoned Sheriff Zuehlke.

Authorities intimated they had one or two suspects in mind, and it was believed that warrants might be sworn out for their arrest Tuesday afternoon.

SET GREAT VALUE ON PERSONALITY OF FORD

Washington (AP)—What might have happened to the value of Ford Motor stock if Henry Ford had died in 1913 followed the basis of argument in the hearing of the government's tax suit to recover $26,000,000 from former minority stockholders in the Ford company.

Paul M. Clay, economic expert, in reply to a question by Ernest H. Van Fossan, of the board of tax appeal-said the personality of the genius of Henry Ford comprised such an incassive value as an intangible asset that his disappearance in 1913 would have warranted a lower evaluation of the stock than had subsequently been made.

CONFESSIOAL IS AID TO SICK SOUL, DECLARES FOSDICK

New York (AP)—Substitution of the confessioal for the psychoanalysis office is urged for Protestants by the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church.

He views the Catholic confessioal as "an amazing service for the treatment of sick souls," and advocates a "renaissance of evangelical preaching" to replace the style evangelism, "thrown out the back door," by modern Protestant Christians.

"For six years I have conducted Baptist, though I am, what I call a confessioal," the pastor of the Rockefeller family told the Greater New York Federation of Church Monday.

"Our Roman Catholic brethren, through the confessioal, have built up an amazing service for the treatment of sick souls. A good priest, through the confessioal, can develop a treatment for the individual, and we have nothing to compare with it."

"Some one has said that the Protestant church has no technique for curing for sick souls.
We have handed over that problem to the psychoanalysis," Dr.
Fosdick maintains an office
"where people who know they are spiritually sick and mentally disturbed can come with their problems."

BIG PROGRAM OF EXPANSION IS OUTLINED

Major Portions to Be Spent for Enlarging Electrical Department

11 MILLIONS IN BUDGET Associated Companies Inaugurate Biggest Program in Their History

Almost $800,000 will be spent by the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. for expansion in its electric street railway and gas departments this year, it was announced Tuesday morning in Milwaukee by S. B. Way, president of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Co., with which the local traction company is associated in The North American Co. The entire expansion program of the T.
M. E. R. and L. and associated companies in Wisconsin and upper Michigan involves an expenditure of $11-451,616, Mr. Way said.

The bulk of the money allotted to Appleton is for expansion in the electric department for which $520,500 has been provided. The budget provides $152,314 for the railway department and $101,067 for the gas department.

PLAN EXTENSION

A. K. Ellis, general manager of the traction company, who is in Iron Mountain, Mich., today, said he was unable to state definitely the items for which this money is used until he returns to Appleton and consults his construction schedule. There will be no large increase in capacity at the power plant, he said. The money will be used for improvements and for extensions. A large portion of the $101-000 allotted to the gas department will be used to complete improvements now underway. The total budget, Mr.
Way explained, is divided among the associated companies as follows:

The Milwaukee Electric Co., the Wisconsin Electric Power Co., owner of the Lakeside Power plant, and the Milwaukee Northern Railway Co., $2-048,363; Wisconsin Gas and Electric Co., Racine, $2,052,852; Wisconsin
Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., Appleton, $774,151; Badger Public Service company, operating principally in Sheboygan county $119,257; Peninsula Power Co. and other operating properties in northern Wisconsin and Michigan $456,933.

Of the electric company's total, $4-492,151 will be expended for improvements and additions to the railway properties and $5,556,179 for expansion of the electric and steam heating utilities, Mr. Way said.

IMPROVE GAS PLANT

Wisconsin Gas and Electric Co., which operates in Racine, Kenosha, Waukegan, Lakeview, Burlington and a large section of southeastern Wisconsin plans to expend $1,195,214 for extensions and improvements to its gas utility, $752,304 for its electric and heating properties and $1,053,344 for railway improvements.

"The 1927 expansion program is one of the largest the Electric Co. and its associated companies have ever undertaken," Mr. Way declared.

"A substantial portion of the 1927 expansion program will be devoted to improvements looking well into the future growth and needs of these communities," Mr. Way declared.

LOWDEN BACKS FEE FOR FARM RELIEF

Former Governor of Illinois Gives Support to McNary-Haugen Measure

BULLETIN

Washington, D. C. (AP)—The senate Tuesday agreed to vote not later than 4 o'clock Friday on the Mc-Nary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Washington, D. C. (AP)—With congress approaching its third showdown on the equalization fee plan of aiding agriculture, Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, Tuesday added his active support to the equalization fee provisions of the McNary-Haugen bill.

In a telegram to farm leaders here the former Illinois governor expressed his "favor" for the McNary-Haugen measure, and declared the Curtis-Crisp substitute, by omitting the equalization fee, "wholly misses the point of legislation we have been advocating."

Previously Mr. Lowden had been quoted in the house as favorable to the Curtis-Crisp bill.

The former governor's telegram was made public at the capitol just as the senate was going into its second day on debate on the McNary-Haugen bill, with a prospect of a vote before the end of the week and while house leaders were lining up to begin house debate on the bill Wednesday. Twelve before in different forms, congress has rejected McNary-Haugen farm bill after the administration had thrown its full force against them, but this time opponents of the proposal are not so sanguine over the prospect.

CAL DELAYS ACTION ON PHILIPPINE PLEBISCITE

Washington (AP)—President Coolidge will delay action for the present on the resolution calling for an independence plebiscite in the Philippines.
He wants to confer with Governor General Wood before he acts.

WRISTON TALKS TO SCHOOL MENTORS AT DISTRICT MEETING

Lawrence President Discusses Broad-minded Teacher at Madison Conference

Madison—(P)—With general sessions devoted to the major problems of instruction and sectional meetings dealing with all phases of scholastic pursuit, the thirty-seventh annual gathering of Southern Wisconsin Teachers' Association will get under way Friday with adjournment scheduled for late the following day.

Several hundred teachers from various high schools and colleges of the lower part of the state will attend. The first general session will open at 9 o'clock Friday morning with musical selections by the East Side high school band. Establishing study habits will then be discussed by Prof. R. L. Lyman of the University of Chicago.

Miss H. Stuart, principal of the Ansonia Technical high school, Indianapolis, Ind., will speak on "The School as a Comprehensive Laboratory." Mr. Stuart's experience in directing one of the largest vocational schools in the middle-west will be brought into the address.

President Henry Wriston of Lawrence College will discuss "The Broad-minded Teacher." Madison, Prof. J. W. Wiseman of the University of Wisconsin will then speak on the teaching profession, followed by an address on "Lincoln as the Democratic Statesman" by Carl Russell Fish of the University of Wisconsin.

Agriculture will play an important part of the group discussions, opening Friday noon in round table discussions led by J. W. Wiseman of Janesville. Topics to be reviewed include the attitude of the student toward farm life; the success of part-time schools; the use of the ninety minute period; developing an assignment; and policies of the department of vocational education.

Business discussion will open Saturday's general session at 9 a. m., followed by chorus music by the Central high school students. Madison, Prof. Frank L. Chapp of the University of Wisconsin will then speak on the teaching profession, followed by an address on "Lincoln as the Democratic Statesman" by Carl Russell Fish of the University of Wisconsin.

HAGMAN ON PROGRAM AT MADISON MEETING

Outagamie Rural Normal Head Talks at Conference of Principals

Madison—(P)—Principals of county normal schools in Wisconsin will center here Thursday on problems they meet in the making of Wisconsin school teachers. Representatives of nearly all the thirty-two county normals are expected to attend. With others interested in education in normal schools, the convention attendance probably will reach fifty.

Misses Maybelle Bush and Della Kibbe, department superintendents in the state education commission, will open the day's program with discussions of county normal school courses of study and reading methods.

C. J. Anderson and Prof. J. H. Kolb, both of the state university, will address the principals on agriculture, rural economics and rural sociology. Discussion will follow the presentation of their papers.

Four principals will present the major portion of the afternoon program. C. L. Hill, principal of the Woodcock normal will give his views on the territory that should be served by the county teachers' college.

A. J. Smith, principal of the Union Grove normal will give the report of the principals' legislative committee, and W. P. Hagman, head of the Outagamie normal will continue the topic taken up during the morning by Miss Bush—courses of study—especially as applied to a two-year program.

J. H. Wheelock, principal of the Verducci normal school is the last speaker on the program. He will present a report.

An evening session for which the program is not yet prepared, is planned for the visiting principals.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR OBSERVING BOYS WEEK

Final plans for Boys' Week, from Feb. 15 to 20, were completed at a meeting of the Y's Men's club, Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The week is featured by the election of boy officers for the city. The primary elections were to be completed in the various schools Tuesday afternoon and the finals will be held next Monday and Tuesday.

A talk by R. M. Elckmeyer, activities secretary of the Y. M. C. A., on "The Trouble in China as it Effects the Association," completed the meeting.

An unfrocked pastor in Denmark has been awarded $500 known as damages because of a bishop's action in demoting him.

Foreigners Endangered As Chinese War Lords Seek To Extend Their Territory And Power

AN over-abundance of war lords brought on the present crisis in China. Nominally a republic—proclaimed so when the Manchus were cut off from the country's payroll 14 years ago—China in fact is a crazy quilt of clashing military powers.

Hopes of democratic rule inspired the overthrow of the emperors. But "war lords" stepped in where the Manchus deserts left off, and nipped these hopes in the bud.

Since then China has been a welter of political disorder, banditry, and military aggression by this ambitious dictator and that.

But the blame cannot be placed entirely on the Chinese war lords. Foreign exploitation, through the various concessions, has kept the war smoldering until it now threatens to burst into a flame equaling the Boxer rebellion.

The Chinese war lords are politicians and with some justification because of exploitation in the past, they have made hatred of foreigners their battlecry. That rarely fails to rally the Chinese to the various armies.

TWO GROUPS NOW FOREMOST
Two main groups of military leadership now are contending in China. They are:

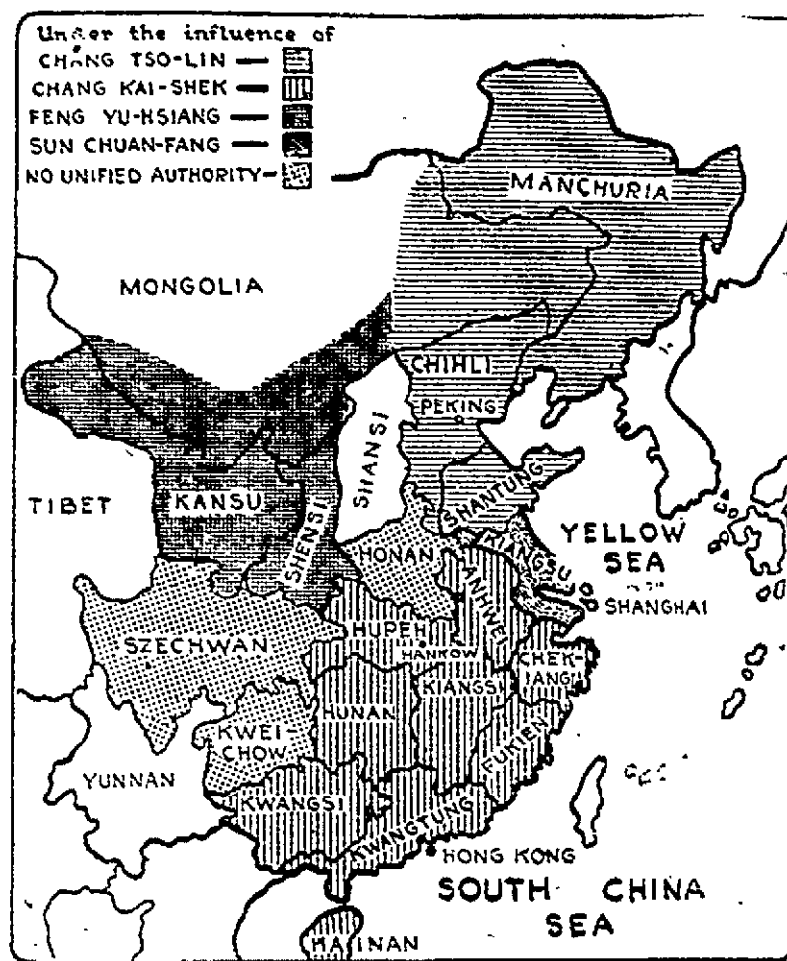

Marshal Chang Tso-lin, ruler of north China and his followers, comprising followers of the youthful Chang Kai-shek in south China and the Yangtze river valley and Feng Yuhsiang in the Chinese northwest.

Popular opinion among Chinese heavily favors the Cantonese faction. European nations, seeking first of all to preserve their investments in China, are said to support the rival Chang Tso-lin or Peking government.

Division of Chinese sentiment and military control extends considerably beyond the south China-north China split, however.

In some of the Liao-shan provinces, no war lord has succeeded in establishing himself. At least two, Yunnan and Shanxi, the authority of local governors has been preserved.

HOW CHINA HAS BEEN CHECKER-BOARDED INTO territorial strongholds of contending war lords is depicted by the map below. The key identifies the military leaders who dominate the various sections of the country. The two provinces shown in white are subject only to their own local governors.

Tibet and Mongolia are dependencies of China in theory. In fact, Tibet is independent and Mongolia is subject to Russian influence.

Dozens of other war lords have risen and fallen since China first took the Manchurian monarchy. One of these was Wu Pei-fu, who fought with Chang Tso-lin in 1920, against him in 1922-24, and with him again in 1926. Wu Pei-fu now is in virtual retirement.

UP TODAY, DOWN TOMORROW
Sun Chuang-fang arose from governor of Chekiang to military control of this and four other provinces. He proclaimed their independence. Now the Cantonese, invading the Yangtze valley, have reduced his territory to the one province of Kiangsu, in which the city of Shanghai is located. Sun Chuang-fang is an ally of Chang Tso-lin.

Feng Yuhsiang once was a corporal. He won the friendship of Wu Pei-fu, and came to dominate the Peking government. Later he withdrew to the northwestern provinces he now rules.

THE MASTER OF THE NORTH
Chang Tso-lin, rugged master of north China, started out in Chinese public life as a bandit chief, fought for Japan in the Russo-Japanese war, and after the Chinese republic was proclaimed, achieved supreme power in Manchuria.

The Cantonese or "Nationalist" movement has been accompanied by China's nearest approach to formation of a political party called the "Kuomintang."

This party is the outgrowth of the patriotism of Sun Yat-sen, who fomented the overthrow of the Manchus. Its political program calls for unification of China territorially and modernizing of its governmental institutions, along with the abolition of all treaties not based on the equality of both contracting parties.

This last provision, affecting "extraterritoriality" and foreign control of customs duties, is of vital concern to the great western powers.

REELECTION RESULTS IN FIRE DEPARTMENT CALL

The reelection from a fire in a salamander in a house under construction at 1630 W. Winnebago-st. Friday evening deceived a neighbor into thinking fire had broken out in the building and an alarm was turned in to the fire department at 6:55. No fire except that in the salamander was found by the firemen, although a thorough search was made.

Chest Colds Need Direct Treatment

It is an obstinate cold indeed that can resist the direct double action of Vicks. Rubbed on the chest, it acts 2 ways at once:

- (1) Direct to air passages with its healing vapors released by body heat;
- (2) Direct, like a poultice, it "draws out" the soreness.

WESTON CONTINUES "SPIRITS" DISCUSSION

Dr. A. H. Weston, professor of classic languages at Lawrence college spoke on Psychic Research at the meeting of the Lions club at the Conway hotel Monday noon. The practical side of spiritualism was explained by the speaker. Two weeks ago he gave the theories of psychic research, particularly the study of dreams and the subconscious.

Spook stories, ghost stalking and other tales of spiritualism were told by the professor. Experiments of scientists were demonstrated. One experience of the speaker was described when he visited a Boston spiritualist as a scientific experiment. He and several other scientists talked to a brother of the medium who had been dead for several years, Dr. Weston maintained.

life, fall by the wayside after having written a few lessons. The experience, however, is good for them, both mentally and morally. Prisoners have the evening for study. They are free from all duties from 6 p. m. until they are required to retire at 10 p. m. This gives them four hours each evening for study if they wish to use it so.

"In most cases I really believe the prisoners take the courses because they wish to better themselves. They seem very much interested at present in courses dealing with automobile mechanics, show-card writing and English."

One woman in particular, who entered the prison several years ago, obtained remarkable results from the correspondence instruction. Unable to read or write at the time she was admitted, she is now able to write an interesting and very legible letter.

Chester Allen, of the University of Wisconsin's Extension department, keeps accurate data regarding the results.

Wisconsin Weather
Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; cold wave tonight; temperatures zero to 5 degrees below in south portion, and zero to 10 degrees below in north portion; not so cold Wednesday afternoon in northwest portion.

A slight low pressure area overlies northern Lake Michigan this morning, with snow over northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan. Zero temperatures already have overspread the Dakotas and Minnesota, and the temperature is expected to reach about zero in this section tonight, as the "low" moves eastward and the "high" advances. Snow flurries are probable this afternoon or tonight, followed by generally fair weather by Wednesday.

An air mail pilot recently dropped a flare upon a farmer's barn, burning the structure. He landed by the light of the burning building and helped the farmer to rescue the cattle.

PLUMMER TO DIRECT ORGANIZATION OF STATE LEGION BAND

Organization Will Make Trip to National Convention at Paris

Ten Appleton Legionnaires and a former Appleton resident attended the annual midwinter conference of the state department of the American Legion which was held Friday and Saturday at Medford. Meetings of the state executive and other special legion committees were held Thursday. L. Hugo Keller, a former state commander, attended Thursday's sessions. Other local men at the conference were Erik Madison, H. L. Plummer, Marshall Graff, Harvey Friebe, F. P. Wheeler, C. O. Boetz, Elmer Schabo and Glenn Mohr. George Merckel, a member of the local post, but now caretaker, of Camp American Legion at Tomahawk Lake, also attended. Five Appleton men talked at the conference. Mr. Plummer spoke on the Legion Nationality. Mr. Madison on the Badger Legionnaire. Mr. Graff on the Membership. Mr. Keller responded to the address of welcome and Mr. Boetz told of the state Legion howling tourney which will be held here in March. Mr. Boetz also spoke on Wisconsin Legion Athletics, a state-wide topic, in place of Joseph Britz of Milwaukee, department athletic officer, who was unable to be present.

ORGANIZES BAND
Mr. Plummer was appointed chairman of a committee to organize a component band from the Wisconsin Legion posts for the French convention trip this fall. The Machine Drum and Bugle corps will make the trip and has been designated official drum and bugle corps of the Wisconsin department. However, no entire band will make the trip, though many players from various post bands will go. It is the duty of Mr. Plummer's committee to get these men together on the boat going over and organize a Wisconsin Department official band for the Paris parade.

The local post reported a membership of 387 at the conference as compared with its 352 last year. It fell 12 short of its goal but expects to add this number during the year.

WANT GAME REFUGE
The Legionnaires voted to support legislation providing that 2,500 acres of land adjoining Camp American Legion be set off as a game refuge and forest reserve. It also was decided to support legislation which provides that 100 acres near the camp be turned over to the state department of the Legion for a "well" camp. This camp will be open to Legion members and their families.

Banks of the state were criticized for their attitude on loans on compensation certificates. The executive committee instructed the state officers to take every means possible to give the service men the loans they desire. At the banquet which concluded the meeting, Mrs. Marshall Graff sang several solos and presented a musical reading, and Mr. Plummer was called on for a short talk. Ten cities—Appleton, Green Bay, Hartford, Neenah, Menasha, Oconto, Sturgeon Bay, DePere and West Bend—responded to Mr. Boetz's request for entries in the bowling tourney.

KEEP "FRAGILE" MARKS OFF NON-FRAGILE GOODS

Postmasters have been directed to instruct their patrons not to label parcels fragile or perishable except in cases where the contents are of a character to warrant the use of the label, according to an announcement made by W. Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general and received here by R. G. Wort, traffic manager of the chamber of commerce. The instructions were prompted by reports from the Mexican postal authorities as to the improper labeling of parcels. The full text of Mr. Glover's announcement follows:

The postal administration of Mexico has advised that a number of parcels are being received in that service labeled to the effect that the contents are fragile or perishable and require special handling, while investigation discloses that the contents are not of the character mentioned.

As this practice will have a tendency to create a disregard for such labels, and parcels which are legitimately insured will not receive proper handling, postmasters should instruct their patrons not to affix such labels except in cases where the contents are of a character to warrant their use.

BUT NO DOUGHNUTS
Ray, N. D., — Ninety cups of coffee and all consumed in three hours and 28 minutes is the record claimed by Frank Trachimowicz, a section hand here. Frank got out to beat the record held by Gus Comstock, Fergus Falls, Minn., who drank 85 cups in seven hours. Frank claimed further that he had no difficulty in going to sleep after the affair with Lady Catherine.

68 Miles Per Gallon In Public Test

Startling Invention Gets Miraculous Mileage and Starts Ford's Instantly

SELECT DATES FOR 2 TEACHER INSTITUTES

Dates of two teachers' institutes in Outagamie have been announced by A. E. Meating, county superintendent of schools.

The first will be held March 3 at Seymour, and the other will be March 17 and 18 at Kaukauna in conjunction with the midwinter fair. The programs are being worked out, according to Mr. Meating.

MAIN ROADS ARE OPEN, SIDEROADS CLOSED, REPORT

Bad Spots on Principal Highways May Be Passed by Motorists

The majority of main highways in the county are passable to motorists, although practically all side roads continue closed, it is reported at the office of the county highway commissioner. A number of bad spots remain on the principal routes, but most of them can be overcome without much difficulty, it is believed. Warm weather of the last few days has melted much snow, and dirt side-roads which are bare are muddy. Snow still covers most roads, however. Highway 18 between this city and Dale, is accessible for its entire length. Business men of those two villages cleared this road a few weeks ago. Bear Creek may be reached over highway 76, through Greenville, Stephenville and Shiocton, but travel is difficult in places.

Highway 26, starting from the southern end of the county and continuing to Hortonville and New London, is open, while highway 47 may be traveled as far as Black Creek. The road north of Black Creek is doubtful. Highway 15 has been open all winter, due to the efforts of the Northern Transportation Co., the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., and the county. And highway 56 between Little Chute and Freedom is reported passable. This road cannot be negotiated in an automobile north of Freedom and toward Seymour.

The condition of highway 54, leading from New London east to Shiocton, Binghamton, Black Creek, Seymour and east to the county line is doubtful. Farmers have been making efforts to open this route in sections, but no reports were available at the highway commissioner's office as to the success of this work.

ST. JOSEPH CHOIR SPONSORS COMEDY

"Savageland" Will Be Presented in Church Hall on Sunday, Feb. 27

Approximately 40 talented young men and women of St. Joseph parish will take part in the musical comedy, "Savageland," in St. Joseph hall on Feb. 27, under the auspices of the mixed choir. The play was written and presented by the Savage club of Cornell University.

The action centers around the search for Miss Birdie Magogin, played by Miss Cecile Haaz, the Irish Cinderella. "Birdie" has become heir to a $1,000,000 fortune willed her by her uncle, Tim O'Toole. The search is led by Sherlock Combs, the detective detective, played by Ralph Everts. The play is centered in the Catskill mountains. From beginning to end the production is replete with solos and chorus numbers. Approximately 50 young

FILE PETITION FOR NEW WARD SCHOOL

Want Structure Located Near Proposed Senior High School Building

Neenah—A petition signed by 177 residents of the First ward, asking for a new ward school building near the proposed new Senior high school was presented at the regular monthly meeting Monday evening of the board of education. The petition was discussed and ordered presented at the next meeting of the city council. The petition said the present Washington school building on Walnut-st. is ancient and not centrally located in the ward, and that the Washington school site which occupies a half block could be sold as residential lots.

Dr. E. D. Greenwood has presented the high school with an X-Ray machine and was given a vote of thanks.

Miss Ada Garvey, school nurse, reported that outside of a few cases of measles in the city, the general health of the school children was excellent.

A 500-gallon elstern for soft water was ordered placed at the Fourth ward school building now under construction. This was recommended by Mr. Chubb, the architect. Reports presented by C. F. Hedgers, superintendent, showed that work on the new Fourth ward building is progressing and within the next week the roof will be in place. Bills amounting to $19,559.66, including salaries of teachers and janitors, were ordered paid.

COURT APPROVES
JURY'S VERDICT IN FAVOR OF MARTELL

Beglinger Orders Judgment Awarding $5,000 to Injured Motorcop

Menasha—In circuit court in Oshkosh, Judge Fred Beglinger has entered an order in the case of Joseph A. Martell, desk sergeant of Menasha police force against Emma Kutcher, affirming the jury verdict rendered at the January term of court. The order was entered on the motion of the plaintiff's attorney, W. B. Rubin of Milwaukee. The verdict as approved by the court, granted Mr. Martell $5,000 for injuries received in an accident at the corner of the Plank and Lomb-st., Menasha, Sept. 6, 1924.

In reading the decision the judge stated that in the court's opinion the questions given by the jury to all the questions in the special verdict were sustained by the evidence presented. Several motions by Harry V. Meissner, defendant's counsel to set aside the verdict were denied.

Many of the motions were based on the contention that counsel for the plaintiff had prejudiced the jury by introducing information concerning the fact that the defendant carried insurance. In the first of these, relating to Mr. Rubin's having questioned the jury as to their connection with various insurance firms, the court held this method of questioning entirely proper. Other motions, having to do with questions asked witnesses and arguments to the jury, were denied on the ground that the defense had taken the initial steps in introducing the information.

Judge Beglinger held that as Mr. Meissner, himself, had placed agents of the insurance companies on the stand and had questioned them in an effort to impeach Mr. Martell's testimony as to his injuries, it was perfectly proper for Mr. Rubin to show their prejudice in the case by questioning them as to whether they carried the defendant's insurance.

In regard to the arguments to the jury the judge held that the defendant's counsel had first made the statements regarding compensation received from the city of Menasha. Mr. Meissner had objected to Mr. Rubin's remarking that Mr. Martell would be forced to pay back the compensation he had received out of the sum awarded him by the jury.

The court further commented that as no record had been taken of Mr. Rubin's argument and no formal objection had been made at the time, these statements could not be used to affect the verdict.

ELECT DELEGATES TO MEETING OF LEAGUE

Menasha—At a meeting of the committee of the whole of the common council Monday evening in the municipal offices, Aldermen Frank O. Heckrodt and James Baldwin were selected as delegates to the annual meeting of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities which meets at Madison Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. They left for Madison Tuesday morning, and will return Tuesday night.

The committee discussed informally the selection of a new city clerk to succeed J. F. DeCaro, resigned, but took no action. No less than half a dozen persons have been mentioned for the position, but it is not certain a selection will be made at the present time.

M'GILLAN LEARNS HOW

Menasha—T. E. McGillan, committee chairman of the boy scouts of St. Mary church, was a guest at the meeting of the Neenah Boys Brigade Monday evening at which he was given an insight of the methods employed by Frank Shattuck and Leo Schubert who have been in charge of the brigade for some time. It is probable that Mr. McGillan will endeavor to apply some of the principles now used by the brigade in scout activities.

tioning them as to whether they carried the defendant's insurance.

In regard to the arguments to the jury the judge held that the defendant's counsel had first made the statements regarding compensation received from the city of Menasha. Mr. Meissner had objected to Mr. Rubin's remarking that Mr. Martell would be forced to pay back the compensation he had received out of the sum awarded him by the jury.

The court further commented that as no record had been taken of Mr. Rubin's argument and no formal objection had been made at the time, these statements could not be used to affect the verdict.

MENASHA
PERSONALS

TO DISCUSS U. S. REGULATIONS AT CHEESEMAKERS' MEET

TARIFF PROBLEMS ALSO ON PROGRAM FOR CONVENTION

Well-known Farm Authorities to Speak at Plymouth Convention, Feb. 9-10

Plymouth.—(P)—Adequate national regulations for cheese producers and tariff problems will be considered by the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Federation at the organization's thirtieth annual meeting here Feb. 9 and 10.

Other problems to be discussed, according to F. G. Swoboda, general manager, include the question of manufactured or processed cheese and the appointment of a man as head of the dairy school. Various phases of the industry will be reviewed by speaking during the convention sessions.

The convention will be opened Wednesday forenoon by Gus Bruckbauer, president, followed by an address by W. H. Hutter, vice president. Dr. P. Sondergaard will speak on "Getting the Farmers Back of Quality." Committee appointments will follow.

SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM
President Glen Frank of the University of Wisconsin is scheduled to speak at the afternoon session. Other speakers will include Prof. Theodore Maclean, R. A. Peterson, Reid Murray and Mr. Swoboda. At the same session winners of the quality contest will be announced and the gold watch given by the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders Association will be presented.

Open discussion will be carried on at the evening session after dinner. Speakers will include H. H. Knipfel, W. J. Hogan, R. A. Peterson, W. H. Hutter and F. A. Cornelia will participate in the discussion.

Charles F. Broughton, editor of the Sheboygan Press, will speak on "The Federation as an Editor Sees It."

The responsibility of the farmer and federation sales problems will be brought before the convention at Thursday's session. The annual report will also be read by Leo J. Gaynor, assistant sales manager. Election of officers and reading of resolutions will conclude the two-day meeting.

A large representation of cheese producers from various parts of the state are expected to attend.

WIECKERT FARMS TO SELL VALUABLE BULL

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

One of the outstanding consignments to the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders' association sale to be held at Dr. Madison's barn, at one o'clock in the afternoon of Feb. 16, is the young bull entered by the Wieckert farms.

This calf is sired by the "Show Bull," owned jointly by Wieckert, Paege and Eshelby, purchased from the Murphy farm, Egg Harbor. His three nearest dams average 1052.91 pounds of butter and 22,935 pounds of milk in 365 days.

His dam is Wisconsin state champion in the 365 day division for both butter and milk at the age of 10½ years. She stands second highest in the world today.

The dam of the calf, selling at 4 years of age, has a 29.04 pound butter record for 7 days and her best day's milk record is 104 pounds. Her dam has a 23.36 pound butter record for 7 days and also a 104 pound milk record for one day.

The bull is described as a real individual with an exceptionally good top line. "Bulls of his caliber should be purchased jointly by two or three breeders or otherwise," say Holstein breeders.

Seventy per cent, or 2244 of the 3176 boys and girls, finished the tasks they started last spring as members of the 4-H club in New Hampshire.

R. H. Menning Helped Start First County Testing Club

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

Greenville.—Milking cows to the strains of a radio installed in his stables, being one of the promoters and members of the first cow testing association in Outagamie county, a scout for out-of-state buyers of Holstein cattle who visit this county and a breeder of purebred Holsteins for the market and for his own use, have made R. H. Menning well-known in this section and throughout the state. But what he takes most pride in himself is his success as a dairyman and breeder of the kind of cattle that local and foreign buyers are trying to find as the basis of dairying.

In 1918, W. G. Jamison, Emory Keltz, Mr. Menning and George Schmitt, took the initiative in establishing the first cow testing association in Outagamie county. The idea was so new and so little understood that in order to get enough members to keep a cow tester on full time duty, it was necessary to include the townships of Greenville, Ellington and Black Creek in the cow testing territory. The work done by these pioneers in deeding the scrub bull and boarders among cows to extinction has become so profitable and popular that there are but few if any dairymen in the county willing to feed cows without knowing the production value of each cow.

As a guide of foreign buyers, Mr. Menning is posted on the location of all herds in his vicinity and the possibilities of making purchases in cash and is personally acquainted with the rank and file of dairymen. In his own herd, Mr. Menning has 33 purebred animals, among which are 15 cows. From the milkers, he aims to have the same flow through the year. He is now getting 360 pounds of milk daily from 12 cows, but sometimes gets as high as 450

AGRICULTURE CHAMPS HONORED

After visiting President Coolidge at the White House, champion corn and cotton growers of the United States were guests at luncheon at the Chilean embassy in Washington. Senator Don Miguel Cruce, the Chilean ambassador, is here seen presenting a watch to Miss Elga Daniels, of Texas, in recognition of her use of Chilean nitrate as fertilizer on her prize corn. Between stands G. Mont Adams, Texas cotton champion.

ADVISE FARMERS TO BUY ALFALFA EARLY

High Price of Clover Will Raise Alfalfa Price, Authority Predicts

Early purchase of alfalfa seed is urged by L. F. Graber, secretary, Alfalfa Order, Wisconsin Experiment association, in a letter to Robert Amundson, county agent.

Clover seed never has been scarcer than now, and north central and eastern states probably will shun clover and buy more alfalfa, Mr. Graber points out.

"The price of alfalfa is apt to take a vigorous jump before spring seeding begins," he says. "If the supply should run short next spring, only lower grades of seed are apt to be available. The best price and best quality can be secured by purchasing now."

"There are splendid stocks of good common Montana and South Dakota alfalfa, Canadian Variegated, and Grimm alfalfa seed available to Wisconsin farmers. Only Grimm seed that has been officially sealed and certified by recognized officials of the states in which the seed was grown can be sold in Wisconsin, according to a recent ruling by the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture."

Mr. Graber said red clover now is being quoted around 40 cents a pound, and alfalfa seed is going to be much cheaper than last year. The best of certified Grimm now selling at about the same price as clover. Common alfalfa seed from Montana and South Dakota holds about the same price as usual, while the Canadian Variegated, a good strain, probably will be slightly higher this year, according to Mr. Graber.

Contrary to the belief that the larger carryover of corn from last year will increase the total supply of corn this fall, the United States Department of Agriculture estimated that the total available supply is less than last year.

Although agricultural co-operative marketing in the United States increased considerably during the past 10 years, 10 states that were well in the lead in the beginning of the period held about the same positions at the close.

BUTTER SITUATION IS SATISFACTORY

Fair Trading on Cheese Market; Swine Prices Lower; Cattle Values Advance

Madison.—(P)—Butter markets, during the last week, were termed as "highly satisfactory" by the state department of markets in its weekly review. Several fractional price advances took place. Offerings were light, particularly on medium and lower grades. At the close of the week fairly active demand and movement were reported. Cheap butter was in very light supply with active demand. On some markets volume of trade was restricted by dealers who asked premiums from outside buyers. Centralized car market supplies were very light during the week but were slightly more liberal at the close. Butter prices are 4½ cents higher than last year at this time.

Trading on the cheese markets was fair during the week. Buyers were operating on a hand to mouth basis. Some increase in production is noticeable. Prices are one cent higher than last year at this time.

SWINE PRICES LOWER
Notwithstanding a marked decrease in swine receipts during the past week the high prices of the previous week could not be maintained. Declines of 15 to 25 cents were registered. Prices are about 30 cents lower than last year at this time.

A sharp decrease in cattle receipts caused uneven sharp price increases. The increase in prices ranged from 50 to 75 cents as compared with the previous week. The weighty classes gained the most. Prices are about 75 cents higher than last year at this time.

The early part of the past week was featured by heavy sheep receipts which caused a decline in prices. Toward the latter part of the week, however, prices rose and the week closed with prices 10 to 25 cents above the previous week. Sheep prices are about $1.70 lower than last year at this time.

KAUKAUNA LIVESTOCK CLUB HAS BIG SEASON

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

Kaukauna.—In Outagamie county, noted for healthy co-operative societies of farmers, the Kaukauna Farmers' Livestock Shipping association, is one of the largest in membership and amount of business transacted.

During the year just closed, this association shipped 41 cars of livestock having a gross value of $51,111.62 and ordered 21,000 pounds of binder twine, 60 tons of salt for cattle, two cars of cedar fence posts and 14 cars of coal.

Besides these activities the association, with the assistance of the Outagamie County Cooperative Shipping association, takes care of all outside buyers of milkers and springers who visit the Kaukauna territory to make purchase or inspections.

The Kaukauna association has 318 members. The directors and officers are: George Lembo, William Lohren, and William Heindl, Ford Harty, president; Peter Thelen, manager; Ben Hartzheim, secretary and treasurer; and John Grafmeier, vice president.

MISLEADING TEST
Farmers may get misleading information as to the amount of limestone that is needed on their land if they test only the surface soil to determine the degree of acidity, according to Dr. P. S. Smith, chief of soil physics of the Illinois College of Agriculture.

Some good producers in Mr. Menning's herd are named below: Parthenia Zur Model, 8-year-old, 21.45 pounds of butter in seven days and 467 pounds of milk.

Good Hope Mercedes Pierte Paul, 7 years, no record, but dam has a record of 21.80 pounds of milk.

Model De Kol Netherland, 6 years, no record, but good producer.

De Kol Burwood Hengertfeldt, 10 years, no record, dam has record of 24 pounds of butter.

Prilly Albino Hengertfeldt, 7 years, no record. Sire's 16 nearest dams averaged 26 pounds of butter.

Lady Pontiac Oakland Boon, 8 years, no record, dam has a record of 26 pounds of butter.

Mr. Menning is consigning one bull to the sale to be held in Dr. Madison's sale stables in Appleton, Feb. 16.

Prepare a harmless and effective gargle by dissolving two "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in four tablespoons of water. Gargle throat thoroughly. Repeat in two hours if necessary.

Be sure you use only the genuine Bayer Aspirin, marked with the Bayer Cross which can be had in tin boxes of twelve tablets for few cents.

BROWN-CO ASYLUM HOLSTEIN CATTLE MAKE GOOD RECORD

Purebred Herd Was Started by Superintendent Wittig on Own Farm

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

Green Bay.—The herd of purebred Holstein cattle, started by Superintendent H. F. Wittig on his farm at Denmark before his official connection with Brown-co asylum, developed on his farm and later on that of the county and owned by the county, has the distinction of being the largest and one of the best herds of Holsteins in Brown-co and its vicinity.

The herd consists of 130 head, 55 of which are cows and the rest young stock. Mr. Wittig has been engaged nine years in the production of this remarkable herd, and while he has sold a large number of purebreds during that time, he has bought very few.

The foundation animals of the asylum herd were a purebred heifer bought of William Everson and Son, Lake Mills, 22 years ago, two heifers bought of R. E. Hager, Algonquin, Ill., two years later, a herd sire bought of Thomas Gormley and Son, Fort Atkinson about the time the Hager purchase was made; a second herd sire bought of Mr. Hager; a herd sire, Fabst Canary Champion, bought of the Fabst Stock Farm, Oconomowoc, Jan. 21, 1913, a herd sire, Sir Ida Lotta Cornucopia, bought June 26, 1916, of Rust Brothers, West Allis; a herd sire, Sir Ormsby Abbecker Korndyke, bought of the Murphy farm in 1921, and the present herd sire, Ambassador Della Fobes, originating on the John Erickson farm, Waupaca. These three females and six herd sires are the foundation animals of the present asylum herd.

FIRST OF HERD
The first heifer calf of this herd was born on Oct. 18, 1907, the next on Oct. 4, 1908, and the third on Nov. 21, 1909. The dam of these three calves was De Kol Princess Jewel 2nd the cow bought of William Everson and Son.

The dam of Sir Ormsby Abbecker Korndyke, mentioned above, was Tidy Abbecker Giselka, having a seven day butter record of 34.94 pounds and a record of 1,227 pounds.

The dam of the present herd sire, Ambassador Della Fobes, was Princess Della. Her record as a 10-year-old was 1,085 pounds of butter and 30.41 pounds in a week. This cow has two daughters that made over 35 pounds of butter each in seven days, and a son that sired the world's champion two year old female that produced 32 pounds of butter as a junior two year old. Princess Della is now owned by the Holbrook farm, Oconomowoc.

When Mr. Wittig came as an official to the Brown-co asylum, he brought with him his herd of 14 purebred Holsteins, originating as outlined above. Within the past few days, Mr.

CREAMERY COMPANY HAS ACTIVE YEAR

Black Creek Cooperative Receives $50,226 for Butter; $153,328 for Milk, Cream

Black Creek.—The annual meeting of the Black Creek Cooperative Creamery company was held at the village hall last Thursday. The following directors were reelected: A. G. Brusewitz, William Schroeder, Elmer May, George Uhlenbruch and Edward Kluge.

During 1926 a total of $50,226.88 was received for butter and $153,328.25 for milk and cream. No butter is manufactured at present. All cream is shipped to Fond du Lac.

Many improvements were made at the creamery last summer which cost the company $12,523.81. The building was somewhat remodeled, an ice machine was installed, cream separator, a new boiler, can washer, tubular cooler and refrigerator.

THIS COMPANY DOES BIG SKIMMING BUSINESS

Oncida.—The Oncida Farmers' company, skimming station, owned by farmers and managed by William Heinrich, now has 63 patrons and is skimming 10,000 pounds of milk every other day. In the flush of the milk season this station gets an average of 15,000 pounds of milk daily. The cream goes to the Seymour Creamery company, operated by O. A. and H. C. Kielesmeier. Among the big producers of milk, patronizing the Oncida skimming station, are Arnold Zuntler, Bergen with 600 pounds of milk daily at the peak of the milk flow, Chris Cleven with 1,000 pounds every two days, and Martin McCormick with 800 pounds daily in the flush. A number of others run from 300 to 400 pounds of milk daily.

Wittig sold seven purebred bulls of which number went to Alex Walleck, Neskeboro. In fact most of his sales are confined to bulls.

Mr. Wittig separates his milk and feeds the skim milk, as far as it will reach, to 23 calves and 55 hogs. Some of the best production records of individuals of the herd are:

Drake Aggie Daisy at 9 years of age, milk production, 23,618 pounds, butter 1,133 pounds.

Princess Canary Pearl, 6 years, milk, 23,656 pounds, butter 1,050 pounds, best day 101 pounds of milk.

Cornucopia Canary Princess, 5 years, milk, 22,399 pounds, butter 1,041 pounds, 7 days, 33 pounds of butter.

Canary Drake Della, 7 years, milk, 23,770 pounds, butter, 1,027 pounds.

In this herd are 17 cows that are averaging over 900 pounds of butter in a year. Thirty-seven cows for seven days averaged 24 pounds of butter.

Mr. Wittig is now getting 1,200 pounds of milk daily from 40 cows. At the peak of the flow last summer, he got 1,800 pounds of milk from 55 cows.

Difficult to Sell Crop Unless Precaution Is Taken, Expert Points Out

BY W. F. WINSEY

According to William N. Knauf, president of the Wisconsin Pea Dealers' association, Chilton, warnings are being broadcasted to pea growers by agricultural interests to plant no seed peas that are not hand-picked as dealers in the past have had difficulty in selling for food dried peas that grew from mixed seed. Hand picking of seed will help bring a good price for the crop. The labor is the same, whether good or poor seed is used, and weather conditions may make or injure the crop, but poor seed makes the result certain at the outset.

Below is Mr. Knauf's message to growers of dried peas:

"A warning is being broadcasted by agricultural interests to all Wisconsin pea growers especially to those who expect to plant peas next spring, to be very careful in the selection of their seed, and under no circumstances to plant pea seed that has not been carefully hand-picked."

"Wisconsin dealers are having difficulty in selling dried peas for food that contain a mixture of types such as many farmers have been marketing during the past few years. If Scotch peas are sold they must contain no white or green peas. The same is true of other varieties. They must be pure Scotch, or pure green or pure white field, or whatever the variety may be. Even a slight mixture will make them less desirable and a price reduction will result."

"This is the time of the year for growers to prepare for the spring seeding. The time spent in hand picking the pea seed will be amply repaid not only in securing a good price for the crop but also in maintaining a market which we stand in great danger of losing altogether because of inferior quality."

"The labor of cultivating the soil for planting and harvesting is identical whether good or poor seeds is planted. There is plenty of risk to run by the farmer even when the best seed is planted. Weather conditions can make or mar the crop, but with poor seed it is an absolute certainty that an inferior crop will result with its inevitable sequence of difficulty in selling, loss in cleaning and reduction in price."

"Annually, hundreds of thousands of bushels of foreign peas are imported into this country. These peas are replacing the product of our own farms and greatly reducing the price of our product.

"If the Wisconsin pea growers use greater care in selecting his seed, if he carefully hand picks the seed he plants, his peas will soon again be in as great demand as they were formerly, when, instead of being imported, we were large exporters and foreign countries were demanding Wisconsin grown peas."

"My Troubles are over" Says Hotel Owner

John H. Peltier, proprietor of Arlington Hotel, Marinette, Wis., endured two years of misery. Stomach trouble caused constant pain and nausea. Credits Tanlac with present sturdy health.

"It was an awful experience," said Mr. Peltier, whose present rugged health tells its own convincing story. He lives at 2128 Hall Avenue, Marinette. "For two years I was in a run-down condition due to gas and acid stomach. Food lay like lead in the pit of my stomach and I often fainted a whole day, rather than endure the agony that followed even the lightest meal. All I lived on was milk and eggs, and I had neither strength, ambition or energy. In addition to constipation and biliousness, my nerves were so unstrung that sleep was impossible. Many a night I've paced up and down my bedroom, tortured by horrible stomach pains. I would rise next morning nervous and tired, too played out to take any interest in life."

"I tried to try Tanlac. I got some and took it a few days. The results were quite noticeable so I continued till five bottles were used. They put me in A-1 condition and I've remained in fine shape ever since. I never have a pain or ache now and my appetite and digestion are perfect. Tanlac is wonderful. Thanks to it, my troubles are over."

If your health is below par, try Tanlac. It is nature's own body builder, made from herbs, barks and roots. Your druggist has it. Over 52 million bottles sold.

A PEACE MOVE IN CHINA.

President Coolidge has formally proposed that the international settlement in Shanghai be eliminated from the war zone in the civil conflict now raging in China and which threatens to lead to grave international consequences. The president's proposal, submitted through the state department, is addressed to the Cantonese nationalists of the south and to Chang-Tso-Lin at Peking, seat of the northern government. It must have the assent of both parties to make it valid. Under the terms of such agreement, if it were consummated, all foreigners and their property in the international settlement would be immune from trespass by the contending forces and would be kept entirely out of the fighting area.

This is the most important move yet made toward conciliation. Events have been rapidly converging toward foreign intervention in China, despite anything the Chinese or the powers can do. Great Britain would not or could not consistently withdraw mobilization in the Orient, and the anti-foreign feeling in China would not abate. Events of the last two weeks have seemed to lead irresistibly to a conflict. The situation had become so serious that Japan finally massed her navy and marines for a quick dash to Shanghai. She is prepared to act with the powers if necessary for the protection of the lives of her nationals. The United States is in the same position and her naval forces are on the way to Shanghai.

If the president's plan is acceptable to the opposing Chinese war lords, and formal engagements were entered into for the internationalization of the foreign settlements at Shanghai and their protection guaranteed, it would make possible an abandonment of the demonstration against China. Great Britain probably would be induced to recall her detachments of upwards of fifteen thousand men now on the way to Shanghai. The congregation of a formidable fleet at that port, which controls 40 per cent of all the outside commerce of China, would be avoided. This would give the Chinese generally a chance to cool off their animosities toward foreigners, and it would minimize the influence and activities of the radicals. It is significant that General Chiang Aik-Shek, commander of the Cantonese forces, has issued orders to the nationalist officials throughout the territory commanded by him to clamp the lid down tight on radical agitation. This is evidently done to appease the British, and to afford no excuse for the further dispatch of troops to China.

The time would, therefore, seem to be propitious for the note which President Coolidge has dispatched. It would be hard to conceive of excuses the Chinese commanders could give for rejecting it. Throughout the present crisis and the development of delicate incidents almost daily, the administration at Washington has kept a cool and level head. It has handled the situation admirably, and it may not be too much to expect that because of this fact it may be instrumental in effecting a policy of conciliation, out of which the way would be opened to the ultimate negotiation of treaties with China, removing both the actual and potential causes of conflict and permanently defining the status of foreigners and their interests in China.

DIVORCE "SLUSH."

Several divorce actions recently staged have been fairly nauseating to the reading public. Details of testimony have been printed that should never have seen the light of day. The principals have revealed in the sensation of giving "piecy" reading matter to a thrill hungry public. Newspapers which are thus pandering to the lower tastes of their reading public are not only injuring their individual standing as newspapers of the better sort, but are laying the foundation for a revolution of many of the privileges of the public press, making it possible for a censorship program to be instituted against American journalism at some future date.

REDUCING THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The senate, by a vote of 46 to 43, has declared its opinion that the treasury surplus should be used for reducing the public debt and not taxes. Since all tax measures must originate in the house, the action of the senate is to be regarded as a gesture only. The house having previously rejected a proposal to cut down taxes out of the surplus, the senate vote does show that it could not have passed that body either. Thus we have brought to a close an incident in which there have been political maneuvers on both sides. Whether or not the president's original suggestion for a tax rebate was conceived in politics, it was ultimately used for this purpose by Republican leaders. The Democrats also entered the political game by trying to force consideration of a bill permanently reducing income taxes.

When the president first called the attention of the country to the mounting surplus and proposed that a part of it be returned to the taxpayer in the form of a rebate, to be considered temporary and not committing the government to a reduction in rates, it was favorably received in many quarters. Conditions since then, however, have materially changed. The new year came in with visible evidences of uncertainty and a general slowing down of commerce. While this in all probability is only a momentary business hesitation and while the year 1927 should be on the whole a good year, it is wisdom on the part of the government to proceed with caution just as the manufacturers and merchants are doing. It would not be a good policy to reduce taxes and then have to increase them, and no one can of course say what the surplus will be next year, or whether there will be a fact be a surplus. When the country is conservative, the government can afford to be conservative. Therefore, it is just as well to wait and see what the future has in stock for us before further steps are taken toward a reduction of federal taxes. In the meantime, we can of course safely apply whatever surplus accumulates to the public debt.

FAREWELL TO THE COLLAR BUTTON.

Perhaps no news within the memory of man has been so welcome as the dispatch from London which said that a woman has invented a shirt that eliminates the ancient sport of hunting for a collar button under a bureau. That woman must certainly have been married and must have witnessed many frenzied searches, punctuated by soulsearing blasphemy. It is the one point on which many ships of marital happiness have been wrecked. Many a wife has had the first glimpse of the brute who was her husband, as he mouthed horrible curses and rotted under the edge of the rug for a recalcitrant collar button. Gone was the tender, loving spouse of the honeymoon and in his place was a menacing stranger who raved and ranted, calling upon high Heaven to witness his martyrdom in searching for a button that refused to be found.

Men are skeptical as yet over the good news. It is too good, they point out, to be true. A world without a hide-and-seek collar button would be a world without evil, a world without sin, a beautiful place to live in. They will point out that many a man has met death with a smile because he believed that in the other world one wore some sort of a nightgown that did not require collar buttons.

If this lady inventor has achieved a practical substitute for this cross that man has borne, he will rise and call her blessed and in the days to come will erect monuments to her memory and endow hospitals in her name that her contribution to suffering humanity may be adequately commemorated.

THE BLOOD PRESSURE OBSESSION TODAY

(First Chapter)

Readers who have blood pressure, high, low, lack of game, or who think they have it because they feel a "pressure at the base of the brain" or a "dizziness" all over, or who are just thinking of trying it for a while and giving neurosis, auto-suggestion or neurosthenia a rest, and therefore in quest of details, particulars, information, causes, symptoms, effects or cures of "same" will henceforward and forever more find the Egyptian sphinx, visible on this subject as compared with the avowedly sarcastic but nevertheless benevolent conductor of this column. Ask me no questions about blood pressure, and I'll tell you no lies. Right here today and tomorrow, I'm telling you I'm going to tell you about blood pressure this year and I earnestly hope that everybody who has it, thinks he has it or thinks of having it will gather from these remarks the good health suggestion I wish to convey, namely, that one's blood pressure is a thing which one should never think of or worry about or even consider. Thinking, talking or stewing over one's blood pressure is about the most bloodless and most mischievous form of depravity an individual, sick or well, can indulge in.

The type of doctor that casually or frankly informs a client that his blood pressure is a few "points" too high or too low or that he has high blood pressure or low blood pressure is fortunately becoming unpopular and obscure. He belongs on the shelf along with the old fossil who used to hedge and quibble over cases of "weak lungs," "spots," "run down condition" and "overwork" while the unfortunate patient drifted from bad to worse. Toward the end of his regime, for what a termination thank heaven, this pretentious practitioner and a large number of victims under his control, victims who fondly cherished such interesting terms as "rheum," "shadows," "catarrhal condition in right apex" in lieu of a frank and unreserved medical opinion as to whether the patient had or had not tuberculosis.

Even if it were possible to construct lists of things which increase or reduce blood pressure, on the order of the quaint old list of things the victim might eat and things he might not eat, I should decline to furnish any such information, for the very good reason I have already indicated, namely, that blood pressure is a thing which a patient or a valetudinarian should not interfere. It is a matter which should be left wholly to the consideration of the physician, just as a sensible person leaves to his physician all consideration of "rules," Babin's signs and leucocytosis.

Every living person has a blood pressure. The blood in the arteries is under a certain amount of constant pressure just as the water in the municipal service pipes is. The blood pressure is maintained by the pumping of the heart and the resistance of the blood vessels and the weight or pressure of other structures such as muscles on the blood vessels. In health the degree or amount of pressure ranges between certain fairly regular low and high limits. But it is no concern of the layman's what these arbitrary limits may be. It is likewise no advantage to a layman's health or well-being to know how high or how low one's blood pressure should be in any circumstances.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Good and ad Seed
Are small seeds such as those of tomatoes, berries and figs ever the cause of appendicitis? What is the usual cause? (E. D. B.)

Answer—No. The usual cause of appendicitis is infection by a strain of colon bacilli that have acquired, or perhaps reverted to pathogenic or trouble making habits, and as a rule the colon bacilli are aided and abetted by common pus producing cocci. The idea that seeds may cause appendicitis probably arose from the fact that little concretions resembling seeds are often found in the appendix at operation and sometimes even seeds. However, we know that these foreign bodies find their way into the appendix rather as a result of disease and not as a cause of it. The liberal use of such seed bearing fruits in the diet, in my opinion, tends to prevent appendicitis.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Tuesday, Feb. 10, 1902

Several hundred persons attended the mask ball given by Karoline lodge at the armory the previous night. Prizes for the best costumes were won by Mrs. J. Ashman, Mrs. J. Hoffman, Mrs. F. Hoffman, Miss E. Roehrig, J. P. Gilsdorf, P. Koletzke, W. Koletzke and L. P. Koletzke, Olga Fye, E. Hoffman, Mrs. J. Ross, M. Bonard, Mrs. J. Bosch, Mr. Wiegand, Miss Barbara Reitzner, J. Wombles, Miss Norma Wolman and J. Dunkell.

The five Appleton Fats were making preparations for the championship contest with the Fond du Lac five at the armory the following Thursday evening. The official line-up was to be: Appleton, center, Capt. Fye; forwards, Dr. Robert Leith, Arnold Kamp; backs, Ernest Otto, Pat Moriarty; substitutes, John Frederick, Al. C. Gochmair and Dan O'Connell. The officials were to be "Duffy" Schwandt, H. H. Holcomb and H. H. Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Ryan returned from St. Paul the previous evening.

Mrs. C. D. Fride entertained a company of friends at dinner the previous evening in honor of her guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fride of Tomahawk.

TEN YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Feb. 6, 1917

Declaring that the United States had "not been neutral," that Great Britain has persistently violated the rights of the United States on the seas, that the United States had borne these violations as if they had been an ally of Great Britain and Germany had no reason to feel friendly to the United States, Senator Works of California, Republican, that day voiced the first opposition heard in congress to the president's action in severing diplomatic relations with Germany. Admitting Germany had violated the rights of the American citizens on the seas, he said, "I protest that no other movement that tends toward war for no greater cause than has yet been given."

Harry "Dutch" Sylvester left the previous evening for New Orleans where he was to join the New Orleans Pelicans of which he was a member.

G. P. Schaffer, Herman Schigel and Harry Schlegel left that day for Milwaukee to attend the annual convention of the Wisconsin State Hardware Dealers' association.

A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Knueppel, E. Collegeville.

Nolan Hoffman, 8-years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoffman, 1125 Ryan-st., was surprised at his home the previous afternoon by a company of friends the occasion being his birthday anniversary.

About 30 young-people surprised Miss Gertrude Van Wyk at her home on Highland-st. the previous night.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Long, Drowsell, were surprised by a group of about 11 friends the previous night. Prizes in cards were won by Mrs. Maurice Peterson and Mrs. Burke.

The cost of living dropped 1.8 per cent during 1926. Probably those Herrin people had something to do with it.

TOO MUCH IS ENOUGH

HASKIN WRITES TODAY

ON—

THE DIVORCE QUESTION.

Washington, D. C. — Students of the divorce problem are now beginning to ask what it is that is taking the until-death-do-us-part out of marriage. For years — ever since it was discovered that there was a divorce problem — their attention was directed largely to a consideration of divorce laws and the legal formalities incident to marriage.

It was contended, variously, that it was too easy to secure divorces in some States and too difficult in others, that a lack of uniformity in divorce laws contributed to the evil, that it was universally too easy to get married, and that hasty and ill-advised marriages had much to do with the steady increase in the number of divorces in comparison with the increase in population and number of marriages. Remedies proposed have been a Federal law to govern divorce and legislation that will make getting married a slower and more to be arranged process. Tying and untangling the knot were primarily the phases of the problem under consideration.

Now, however, the idea seems to be gaining that the real problem is not so much how people get married and unmarried as it is what change has come about in people's minds as to the sanctity of marriage and the permanency of the marriage tie. It is not suggested that marriage and divorce laws do not need revision or modification, but it is becoming recognized that no law can prevent what are in reality divorces, although they may not be sanctioned by the courts, or seriously hamper those who are determined to enter into the marriage relation whether or not they have or can get a license and a wedding certificate.

Hence the inquiry as to what social, moral, religious, psychological, or economic changes have come to pass to have created conditions such that marriage vows are so lightly regarded by a large element of the population.

WHAT THE STATISTICS SHOW

Statistics prove that there are more divorces and hence that the marriage tie is not the knot it once was. There is no doubt that statistics. The latest government figures show that in 1925 there was one divorce to every seven marriages. Fifteen years ago the ratio was one to thirty. If the data for 1926 were available the showing might be even more startling, and the imagination rather than a computing machine is to be used to reach a conclusion as to when there will be a divorce for every marriage.

Some, for every marriage, are even more amazing. For example, it is said that of 26 graduates of a girls' finishing school ten years ago, 17 have been married and of the 17 married 15 have been divorced — one of them twice — making a total of 16 divorces to 18 marriages. Of course, there may have been another marriage or two following death-sundered marriage ties, but the way the girls of that school take to divorce is none the less an eye-opener.

In another case, a writer listed the names of the first 25 friends or acquaintances that came to his mind. Then he made a check that showed that 24 of them had been married at least once, that there had been 40 marriages in all, and that there had been 19 divorces or permanent separations. Only 10 of the marriages had shown that they were contracted for time and eternity, or whatever period is most frequently cited in lovers' protestations.

According to the report of the Department of Commerce there were 175,495 divorces in the United States in 1925, an increase of 45.4 over the preceding year. Marriages for 1925 were 1,181,335, an increase of only 3.20, or less than the increase in population, which is estimated at 1.5 per cent over the population of 1924. The number of marriages per 1000 of population was 10.2 in 1925 and 10.4 in 1924, while the number of divorces per 1000 was 1.52 in 1925, and 1.50 in the preceding year.

Some of the States, it is shown, had a sharp falling off in divorces, while others had marked increases, thus revealing a lack of uniformity for the country as a whole that is as striking as that of the divorce laws themselves.

Nebraska, for example, showed a decrease of 25.5 per cent in divorces, while Utah showed an increase of 22.9 per cent. In Rhode Island there was a decrease of 23.1 per cent, but in Florida an increase of 21.1 was shown.

Other States showing decided decreases in divorce were Massachusetts with 12.2 per cent; Louisiana, 8 per cent; California, 5.6 per cent; and Minnesota, 4.6 per cent. New York showed a decrease of 0.2 per cent, with a total of 4511 divorces for 1925 as against 4622 for the preceding year.

New Jersey with 16.3 per cent, Delaware with 15.9 per cent, Wyoming with 16.6 per cent, North Dakota with 16.4 per cent, and Mississippi with 16 per cent were other States that showed marked increases in the business of sundering the tie that is best and is supposed to be binding. Figures on Paris are not compiled by this Government, but it is known that American divorces in the fashion capital of the world have been on the up and up during the last two years.

The net increase in marriages for the country as a whole was 0.3 per cent, according to the Department of Commerce report, but here again the showing of different States varied greatly, ranging from a decrease of 12.5 per cent in Georgia to increases of 91 per cent in Nebraska and 35.4 per cent in Florida. North Dakota united 18.1 per cent more of her natives and residents in 1925 than in 1924; South Carolina showed an increase of 9.6 per cent; Utah, 9.2 per cent; and Tennessee, 5.9 per cent.

Offsetting these increases, Iowa showed a decrease of 11.5 per cent in number of marriages; Wyoming, 10.6 per cent; Michigan, 7.1 per cent; and Idaho, 5.3 per cent.

"The rate of 10.2 marriages per 1000 of the population for the United States as a whole," says the report, "represents an average of rates in the individual States ranging from 5.0 in Delaware and 5.7 in Wisconsin, to 16.6 in Maryland and 16.9 in Florida. In general the changes in the number of marriages per 1000 of the population form a more satisfactory index of the trend with regard to marriage in the several States than do the absolute figures of the number of marriages, because they take account of difference in the rate of increase in the general population." Government statisticians and analysts do not attempt to explain the why and wherefore of the increase in divorces and the falling off in the number of marriages. Lay experts, however offer a wide variety of explanations, ranging from the decadence of the times and the weakening of the nation's moral fiber to the greater economic independence of women, fewer children in the average family, and the high cost of living.

None of these influences, it is argued, would be appreciably affected by changes in the marriage and divorce laws.

TAX REVOLTS IN RUSSIA

Signs of revolt of serious revolts in many parts of Russia have been confirmed by Kalinin, president of the executive committee of the Communist Party of Moscow. He said local governments have been adding such heavy burdens of special taxes to the state taxes that serious unrest has been caused among the peasantry. Martial law has been declared in several of the provinces.

See-Sawing On Broadway

By Gilbert Swan

New York. — Within sneezing distance of some of Gotham's gladiators of modernism are employed methods reminiscent of horse-drawn canal boats.

One such is the "dummy boy." And 18 such may be found operating but three blocks off that well-known highway called Broadway. "Dummy boys" are the Paul Reverse of the freight tracks. They ride ahead of New York Central freight trains to warn pedestrians and vehicles that a train is coming.

In a day when signal systems have reached a high state of efficiency this seems, indeed a homely custom. One might expect some such custom in Tank Corners but surely not in Manhattan.

The riders keep 100 feet or more ahead of an incoming train, riding along the track shouting as they go. They have perfected a cry that might find favor in a hog calling contest. At night they come galloping out of the darkness, swinging a lantern and chanting their unique warning to the traffic of a supermodernized city.

It might be explained that the "dummy boys" are no reflection upon the railroad or the metropolis.

They are demanded by a city ordinance passed some 75 years ago when modern equipment was taking its first toddling steps. It has never been repealed and so, archaic though it be its enforcement is continued.

Through the years the small boys of Manhattan have viewed the "dummy boys" with something of the awe that all boyhood bestows on the cowpuncher. It is the big town's substitute for the buckaroo.

Speaking of city ordinances, it now becomes possible for the little people of big stardom to have their names emblazoned on Broadway in bigger and better lights. Two extra feet have been allowed so that Betty Twinkle-toes can now shine forth in nine-foot letters.

The life of an actor, meanwhile, becomes worse and worse. Those good people who devote their time to gathering figures have statistics showing something like 200 well-known actors out of work and about ten times that many little known stage folk seeking jobs. Something like 2000 musicians were reported as "being at liberty." It has perhaps been one of the hardest winters in many a year to the hundreds of stage folk. Since they figure on winter as the season for gathering in their meal money, it looks like a twice-as-hard summer.

Q. Can you tell me how much waste there would be in a 15 pound turkey? F. B.

A. The weight of a fowl after the head, feet, bones and inedible entrails have been removed is from 15 to 20 per cent less.

Q. Will you please inform me where I can get full instructions how to salt peanuts in the shell. R. W. W.

A. Salting peanuts in the shell is done quite extensively in the tropics. The peanuts are boiled in the salt liquid and then allowed to dry, after which they are roasted. No special equipment is required for this process.

Q. What will color kerosene oil red? J. Y.

A. Oil Red O, which is used to color gasoline can also be used in kerosene.

Q. Are big game animals on the increase in the United States? F. C. H.

A. Big game on the reservations administered by the Biological Survey have notably increased during the last ten years, with the exception of antelopes. Better control has been initiated and these are again increasing. The total number of big game animals on these reservations at this time is about 1,350.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

THE BASSWOOD AS AN ORNAMENT

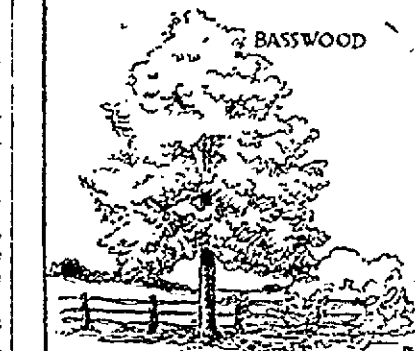

BY ARTHUR N. PACK

President, American Nature Ass'n.
Anyone living in the eastern part of the United States must be thoroughly familiar with the basswood, if not as a forest tree at least as one widely used for street planting and ornamental purposes.

The basswood has a wide variety of names, among them white Linden, whitewood, bestree, lynn, lime tree and whitewood. Its leaves are broadly heart-shaped, and one-sided at the base, with tufts of rusty hairs occurring in axils of the veins. It has a brownish gray bark with long vertical fissures; the wood is light brown, nearly white (hence the name whitewood) and is chiefly used in the manufacture of paper pulp.

The American tree has five creamy white petals opposite petal-like scales, but these scales are lacking in the European tree.

The well-rounded crown and generous leafage make it well suited for the purposes of street planting, and in June the fragrant blossoms add to the beauty of any city. Even in a well-shaded and attractive city as

Washington, the adaptability of these trees is noticeable far above others. On Massachusetts avenue, a beautiful residential street, there is a stretch several miles long of basswoods, planted on both sides of the street.

The tree is subject to insect enemies and sensitive to their attacks, but its beauty repays the effort required for overcoming these handicaps. It demands a deep rich soil, and moist bottomlands and hillsides are its favorite home.

Broken Threads

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

To the home of PROF and MOLLIE ELWELL in Camden, Ind., one night in October, 1898, is brought a woman who had fainted on a train. That night she bears twin girls and dies without revealing her name.

The story then moves forward 18 years. The twins, now growing to beautiful womanhood, have been adopted and named MARGARET and ELIZABETH. They are called RUSTY and BETTY. JIM ELWELL, the son, enlists in the World War. He then discovers that one of the twins loves him.

He is shell-shocked at the Battle of Sedan and at first is reported dead. Finally, however, he is identified in a New York hospital and his mother and father hasten to him to find his memory and speech gone.

Specialist's despair of his recovery. The day before his parents are to take him home, Jim wanders away from his nurse, NELLIE DOWNING.

A frantic search is begun. Late that night he is found in Bellevue hospital, unconscious, his skull fractured, expected to die. He was hit by a truck.

The twins are in Indianapolis at the home of their uncle JOHN CLAYTON, the mystery of their identity having been cleared up while Jim was in France. They make preparations for his homecoming, not knowing of the accident, but when the train pulls in the Elwells are not aboard.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVII

"Why, they didn't come!"

Both Rusty and Betty uttered the dismal truth in the same words. No body questioned or supplemented their statement.

"What could have happened?"

Again they spoke in concert and no one answered. The crowd began to disintegrate. The band silently packed its pieces and shuffled off. Harvey Weir swore and found himself a pleasant spot to sit in the park. To have gone out and got so expensively illuminated for an occasion that failed to materialize was something of a disappointment to Harvey. He had wasted something.

Martha Dalton elbowed her way up to the two girls.

"Something must have happened."

It seemed the obvious thing to say, so she said it. There was very little else to say.

The girls nodded their heads. Words had failed them for the moment.

The old nurse slipped an arm around the waist of each of them and escorted them back to the Elwell cottage. Once inside and away from the sympathetic looks of their life-long acquaintances the two gave vent to their disappointment according to the prescribed form. They cried.

With the passing of this came the

of course. "If they don't, I'll wire the hospital."

Ten o'clock came, and the train, but still no sign of Mollie and Prof and Jim Elwell.

Shortly afterward the girls and Martha Dalton sent a night message to Edwin C. Elwell, in care of the hospital where Jim had been a patient, with a request for any information pertaining to them and whether they had left the institution and where they might be found.

Instructions went along to the hospital to see that the message was delivered.

At noon the next day they were rewarded by the receipt of the following message:

"JIM BADLY HURT TUESDAY NIGHT IN NEW YORK STOP SKULL FRACTURED STOP NOW IN BELLEVUE HOSPITAL STOP STILL UNCONSCIOUS AND LITTLE HOPE OF RECOVERY STOP WILL INFORM OF ANY CHANGE STOP HER CASE VERY SERIOUS STOP LETTER SOON."

(SIGNED) E. C. ELWELL

Martha Dalton sighed heavily and bowed her head in prayer. Both girls cried out in sudden agony of spirit and one of them crumpled and sank slowly to the floor.

In New York things were just as they had been described, in the telegram. The third day after the accident Mollie Elwell had fallen at Jim Elwell's bedside. Brain fever, physicians said, was imminent.

Dr. Lawson, instead of being called in to see what he could do for Jim Elwell, was summoned to take care of Mollie. He put her to bed at the hospital and issued orders that no one except Prof was to see her. Even Nurse Downing was barred.

The afternoon following the receipt of their telegram, the girls went back to Indianapolis and Martha Dalton went with them. Grief and suspense now gripped the hearts of them and for days the home of John Clayton lay under a pall of dread.

Twenty-four hours after they had received the first telegram they got another one, signed by Nellie Downing. This stated that Jim was still alive, though unconscious, and informed them of Mollie's danger of brain fever. Prof, the telegram said, was keeping up through sheer force of will.

Two days after Mollie Elwell had collapsed at her son's bedside and while Prof was sitting beside her, his eyes fixed anxiously on her pale, drawn face, a nurse tiptoed into the room and said she had something to tell him.

She lifted up a warning finger. "Now, be quiet. No noise, please, on account of her," and she indicated the bed where Mollie Elwell lay.

Prof stared at her out of tired eyes and nodded. His face was lined and haggard, through sleeplessness and worry. He had not shaved for two days.

The nurse said, "Your son has regained consciousness."

Prof slowly got to his feet. "You mean," he said eagerly, "you mean he will live?"

"What I can't say. It is something that he is conscious once more."

Prof looked at his sleeping wife. "I want her to know as soon as she wakes," he said. "Meanwhile, please send for Dr. Lawson at once. He left instructions you know, to be notified in case of a new development."

The nurse tiptoed out. Prof followed her.

Late that afternoon Dr. Lawson went into Mollie Elwell's room and told her the news.

"Your son," he said, "has more than an even chance of living. Now, be a good lady and let's see how fast you can get well, so we can take you in to see him."

Mollie's face was pitiful to see. It worked convulsively for a while and then two large tears began to course down from her eyes.

"Can't I see my boy now?" she asked.

But Dr. Lawson was adamant. "No. Not until you prove to me that you'll behave yourself. We can't risk any setbacks on him now. He's too nearly all in for that."

But when the doctor left a new hope was shining in the eyes of Mollie Elwell and Prof came in to find her cheerful and eager.

"I'm going," she said to him, "to get well real soon now."

Jim, Prof told her, was going to live. "He's sleeping soundly now and Dr. Lawson is watching him."

"We'll never be able to thank Dr. Lawson enough, Prof."

Her husband shook his head. "I'm afraid not. Nor Nellie Downing. Everyone has been so kind to us. Mollie. We've never known what wonderful people there were in this world until this happened. It makes it a better place to live in, doesn't it?"

Shortly afterward, Prof sent another telegram to the girls and John Clayton. This carried the information that Jim had regained consciousness and had a chance to pull through. He was, however, in the same condition mentally as previous to the accident, as he had not talked. Mollie was recovering rapidly, thanks to the promise held out to her of Jim's life being spared. Prof was beginning to hope again himself.

"Never in my life," remarked John Clayton in a talk with Martha Dalton that day, "have I ever known of two persons being subjected to a greater strain on their hearts and minds than Prof and Mollie have undergone in the last year. There are very few people, in my opinion, who could have come through such a scourging and retain their belief in the mercy and justice of a supreme power as I'm sure both of them have."

Martha Dalton opened her lips to speak and the twins bounced into the room and interrupted her.

To Be Continued

In the next chapter the twins develop a jealousy of Nellie Downing.

$50,000.00 Contest prize winning true story

IN True Story Magazine for March appears the most powerful true story ever written. It is a tale so different, so deeply moving, so powerfully compelling that by unanimous decision of the judges it was awarded the first prize in the $50,000 true story contest recently conducted by True Story Magazine in which over fifty thousand manuscripts were received.

A tale of the Cumberland Mountains

It is a story of the city and of the wilderness. Of a gently reared girl accustomed to the refinement and culture of genteel city life set abruptly down amid the Kentucky lumber camp, there to be swept off her feet, blinded to the realities of life, by forces over which she had no control. Of a community of rough-hewn mountain folk rent asunder by the coming among them of a girl whose sweet dignity and reserve, whose stylish mode of dress, everything about her so different from the girls they knew, aroused in the hearts of the river men and lumber jacks a raging storm of conflict.

A tale of rushing, log-jammed streams. Of primitive passions surging in the breasts of men who feared neither God, nor man, nor devil. A tale of tears and blood and tragedy, of hate and love and jealousy. While over all hung the dread menace of the double-bitted ax, one blade of which was red. It is entitled "Stronger Than Death."

The Author A World War Veteran

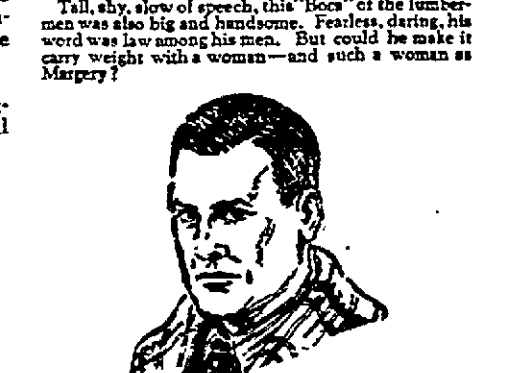

Written by Mr. H. M. Sutherland, war veteran and resident of a town in the Cumberland Mountains, it is the tragic drama that befell one of his dearest friends, Margery, about whom the story revolves, did not feel that she could do the story justice. But she told it all to Mr. Sutherland. And he in turn, has set down what is without doubt the most powerful true story ever from the depths of whose grief-stricken heart comes this lonely cry:

"John Devignet said I was to marry him, but it seems to me that the decision has been taken from my hands. I want to go with him. God knows I love him with every fibre of my being, but I can't drive away the picture of George's white, ashen, hopeless, pleading face across that tawny current of spray and logs. I've tried to forget, but the memory clings. Must I sacrifice my happiness in atonement for the crime that I have done?"

GEORGE ELLIS
Tall, shy, slow of speech, this "Boss" of the lumbermen was also big and handsome. Fearless during his word was law among his men. But could he make it carry weight with a woman—and such a woman as Margery?

JOHN DEVIGNET
College-bred, son of the owner of the logging operations, John Devignet came to the logging camps as general superintendent. The men were prepared to laugh at him as a dandy dandy who would quake at every shadow. But they found that he could take care of himself in war or love.

The Author Says:
"Stronger Than Death" is an account of the tragic experience that befell a dear friend when she accepted the position as teacher in a mission school in the Cumberland Mountains.

"I have written in the first person, first because the rules of the contest require that all stories submitted be in the first person, and second because I have set it down so nearly the way the hero told it to me that I feel justified in presenting it as coming from her own lips."

Narrow Boleros And Full Length Coats In Palm Beach Parade; Jackets With Sleeves And Without Will Be The Vogue For Spring

BY BETSY SCHUYLER

NEA Service Writer

ALMA BEACH. Down here in the land of the palms there are more varieties to the coat and more-so-called "interpretations" than there are brands of canned goods. I have much up my sleeve about this particular item of dress.

Here are coats of every description, ranging in length from the short bolero in full length, varying in materials from lace to shaggy tweed, yet with one common interest—keeping as straight and narrow as possible.

NEW COLLARS INTEREST

Interesting to me are the new collars. Coats that are furled, and many are not, have upstanding collars that run to points under the ears or possibly to one slightly exaggerated point in the back resulting in a charming frame for the face and a minimizing of the ever present neck problem.

On the slender figure I am all for the upstanding collar, the buttons covet under the chin but for the more mature figure I prefer the shawl collar coming waistward in a deep V.

YOKES IS BACK

And now the yoke has sneaked up on us. I have seen the most cleverly cut points and collars that unexpectedly develop into panels or tabs in a most original fashion.

As for tucks—never have I seen so many, those pin tucks are apt to take up every available inch on a coat either in a diagonal or horizontal, arranged in the group panel, or else so wide they look like ties.

I have seen several coats that simulated a jacket suit by placing a deep fold right where the hemline of the coat would naturally occur in a two-piece garment.

COATS YOUTHFUL

I've seen even so many belted coats this season, and I must say they are youthful and charming on the slender and pretty figure in the stout. I saw one young thing in a green jacket belted with a very low and wide belt of several shades of red leather. But she was built a slat and looked charming.

A jacket that struck my fancy was of yellow chintz with a tiny calico pattern in green, quilted like an old-fashioned quilt, and worn with a white flannel, knee length skirt.

The sleeveless jacket is seen everywhere, not only on the golf course where you expect it, but with every type of frock. In fact the sleeveless jacket, worn under a regulation model with sleeves is quite the vogue.

GENEVIEVE BLENDENNIN

I feel perfectly safe in forecasting the popularity of the tailleur for spring, judging by the number of flannel and tweed suits one sees down here. I can see them dotting the avenue in New York in blue and gray a month or two from now.

TAILORED OUTFITS

Speaking of tailored outfits, I saw

Mrs. George Easton in an extremely chic tailored one-piece with a notched collar, surplice line, and a skirt that was bordered in a darker material arranged in wave-like scallops from the hemline half way up the skirt.

As I wrote last week, you can't possibly escape the sweater, so you might as well accept it, in all its varieties. It is a bit weird, however, to find sweaters sprouting shoulder bouquets as was the one I saw on Julia Brokaw at the Everlasts club.

LIBERTIES ALLOWED

All sorts of liberties are now allowed to the sweater costume. The slave bracelet is never absent, the more colorful and barbarous the better.

Genevieve Blendennin appeared on the links in a charming white sweater outfit that had a vestee of blue, and her slave bracelets were in blue and silver.

Mrs. Persifor Frazer was very attractive in a knitted wool costume—the skirt of beige and a jumper that had flecks of brilliant colors in a design reminiscent of the early settlers of this country.

WIDE BRIM HAT

On Mrs. Malcolm McEacham I saw a very attractive type of sport hat, a wide brimmed leghorn affair with a deep crown formed of lace straw, banded with two shades of blue. Her frock was the simplest tennis frock with long sleeves and a low belt. Usually she wears very small, very Frenchy hats and this was a decided change for her.

The vogue for black and white is making excellent progress here. For afternoon particularly, one sees the most elegant combinations of black satin or felt crepe and white georgette crepe.

Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte has appeared in a number of picturesque outfits, one I particularly like being of beige crepe.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

Breakfast—Stewed dried apricots, cereal, thin cream, codfish hash, split corn bread milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Baked macaroni with dried beef and mushrooms, bran rolls, hearts of celery, apple spider cake, milk, tea.

Dinner—Boiled mutton, steamed rice, molded spinach with hard cooked eggs, whole wheat bread, peach charlotte, milk, coffee.

No salad is suggested in the dinner menu but of course can be added. However, since the fresh vegetable required daily is served at nontime and spinach forms the dinner vegetable the day's menu is well balanced and not lacking in vitamins.

APPLE SPIDER CAKE
One tablespoon butter, ½ cup light brown sugar, ½ cup apple sauce, 2 tablespoons shredded almonds, 1 egg, ½ cup granulated sugar, ½ cup flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon baking powder, 2 tablespoons water, ¼ teaspoon vanilla.

Use a five-inch iron spider. Melt butter and tip spider until evenly coated. Spread sugar evenly over bottom of spider and sprinkle with almonds. Put over a low fire while mixing cake. Beat egg until very light, beating in sugar. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder and beat into first mixture, beat in water and vanilla. Using beater. Spread the apple sauce over contents of spider and cover with cake batter. Bake 25 minutes on the lower grate of a moderately hot oven. Turn upside down on a large plate, cover with whipped cream and serve slightly warm. The cake must cool before covering with the whipped cream. (Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.)

PROMISING GIRL GOLFER

London (P)—Not since the meteoric appearance of Miss Joyce Wethers had an English girl golfer shown the promise of Miss Violet Clayton, 18 years old, who is expected to aid England in the defense of this country's women's golfing championship, which as yet never has been captured by an American. Miss Clayton is a pupil of George Duncan.

white are strongly stressed in the sports wear departments of smart shops. Sometimes the white jumper has large black squares extending horizontally about the body while sleeves, collar and hip band remain white. Skirts are invariably white. A smart little white sports frock adds a touch of black by using a huge monogram on the front of the jumper. The accessories worn with black and white sports frocks include white fox fur piece, white felt hat, white kid shoes, piped and strapped in black patent, and black and white pocketbook.

Black and white jersey bathing suits are prominently featured in one shop window. In each case the short trunks are black while the upper portion is white. One model uses three wide black stripes across the body and another receives its white tunic top by a large black monogram and black patent belt. White jersey beach wraps are also over these little black and white bathing suits and white rubberized silk caps with black flowers and black and white parasols complete the ensemble idea.

Some of the very newest for coats use black and white combinations. One model of black broadtail has a wide scarf of white ermine which is worn with one scarf end hanging in front and the other thrown over the shoulder. Black cloth coats for spring are very often collarless in white ermine. White fox on black cloth coats is also used. One such model has a wide band of fox extending from neck to hemline. Black and white is noted repeatedly in evening gown displays.

PINK TEAS A BORE, SOCIETY GIRL NOW CONDUCTS QUESTION BUREAU

Mrs. Eugene Harrington

Atlanta (P)—"Where can I get a list of Canadian hay fever resorts?" "Would flesh georgette do for a wedding?" "What should one wear to Bobby Jones' dinner dance?" "I love her, but she does not care for me. What should I do?"

These are indicative of the hundreds of questions Mrs. Eugene Harrington, Atlanta society matron, now is answering instead of going to work teas. Social life became monotonous, so she established a personal service department in a large store—and put it across.

First, the department was designed to assist shoppers in the purchase of goods, but now it has developed into well, let her describe it:

"We planted a book exchange, and grew a library. Instead of aiding a few shoppers in the store, we buy for both men and women all over the country, plan trips abroad, sell theater tickets, steamship tickets, plan teas and dances, give advice to the lovers and find lost children."

Mrs. Harrington varied her life as a debutante by driving an army truck during the World War. She has traveled the world over. She has trained numerous girls and assisted them in establishing businesses of their own.

But she admits she and her assistants occasionally have to spar for time as persons over the telephone and behind the office rail fling such questions as these:

"What is really the proper manner in which to act in a hotel?" "Where can I rent a punch bowl?" "How can I work my way to Europe?"

"How do I recover a nickel from this phone?"

At that, she says, it is far more interesting than pink teas.

SAINT AND SINNER

By Anne Austin

Dr. Atkins was waiting for them in the foyer of the hospital building. All his boyish briskness had left him; he looked stricken, personally grieved, and curiously apologetic. He went straight to Faith, and she had the odd impression that he would have liked to put his head down on her broad, motherly young shoulders and cry, like a hurt child.

"I want to tell you how—it happened," he spoke in a low, almost pleading voice. "We'd taken every precaution to keep her from hearing anything about Cher—Mrs. Wiley. I don't want you to think, Mr. Lane, he turned to Faith's father and laid a trembling hand on his shoulder—that anyone in the hospital was to blame."

"Then she found out." Jim Lane said dully, drawing a shaking, gnarled old brown hand across his eyes. "Martin did, knowing about Cherry."

"What I want to know is how she found out," Junior blustered angrily, as an outlet for his grief. "Who spilled the beans—I mean, who went and blabbed to her? I'll kill him!"

"I'm afraid you can't, Long," Dr. Atkins spoke with sorrowing respect, not with impatience. "It was a woman patient who accidentally gave the whole thing away. She's a wheel chair patient, been here for two years, and she's given a good deal of freedom, as the chronics always are."

Her husband—though of course we didn't know all this till later—came to see her and brought a copy of the extra carrying the news of Cherry's indictment."

He flushed as his small, grief-stricken audience winged at his words. "He gave his wife the paper with out mentioning the Cherry case. In fact, the paper was folded. He stuck it through the arm of her wheel chair and hurried away to his dinner."

Mrs. Lane—That's the woman's name—wheeled herself down the third floor corridor past your mother's room." He was speaking to Faith again, holding her hand in a tight grip, but glancing occasionally at woman's golfing championship, which as yet never has been captured by an American. Miss Clayton is a pupil of George Duncan.

"Mrs. Lane was sitting propped up in bed, with her tray before her, eating her supper."

"Where was the nurse?" Jim Lane demanded harshly. "I thought we was paying enough to—"

"The nurse had stepped across the hall to the chart room to record Mrs. Lane's pulse and temperature, taken just before her supper tray arrived. You can't blame the nurse, Lane. I tell you, it was an accident. No one was to blame."

"Please go on, Dr. Atkins," Faith urged him compassionately. "I'm sure no one can really be blamed."

"That Baby You've Longed For"

Mrs. Burton Advises Women on Motherhood and Companionship

"For several years I was denied the blessing of motherhood," writes Mrs. Margaret Burton of Kansas City. "I was terribly nervous and subject to periods of terrible suffering and melancholia. Now I am the proud mother of a beautiful little daughter and a true companion and inspiration to my husband. I believe hundreds of women would like to know the secret of my happiness, and I will gladly reveal it to any married woman who will write me." Mrs. Burton offers her advice entirely without charge. She has nothing to sell. Letters should be addressed to Mrs. Margaret Burton, 1556 Massachusetts, Kansas City, Mo. Correspondence will be strictly confidential.

Poor Mother!" Her voice broke, and she bit her lip to keep it from trembling.

"Mrs. Lane was lonely, and she liked to talk to the other patients. Everyone had been warned, we believed, not to discuss the case with her."

His hearers nodded, their eyes tense.

"Mrs. Lane called out to Mrs. Jost and Mrs. Jost wheeled herself into the room, glad of a chance for a chat. She's a sociable old lady, and really does a lot of good, cheering up the bedridden patients. Mrs. Lane caught sight of the paper and asked her to let her see it. Mrs. Jost gave it to her without unfolding it. Of course, one look at the headlines—"

"Did—she—say anything?" Jim Lane asked heavily.

"She—she got out of bed, started to go to the door, called out Cherry's name, just as the nurse came running into the room. Mrs. Jost had screamed, I believe, at the sight of Mrs. Lane's horror. Then—she fell. I got to her within five minutes. This makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief."

WOMEN AND HISTORY

Paris (P)—The young French girl is being attracted more to the study of history not merely anecdotal and picturesque, but solid and serious. Eight were admitted after examination to the famous French School of Historical Records, which has turned out some of the finest historians in the world. One of the girl candidates was placed second on the list.

Home-made, but Ends Coughs in a Hurry

A family supply of dependable cough medicine. Early made and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold, with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child coughs up at night with a hoarse cough, and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified honey, if desired. This makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief."

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes of the throat and bronchial tubes with an ease and promptness that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaricola, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex", with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

HEAD THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

ALAS, alack, the Tynmites have had a lot of fearful frights, but falling in the sea, to them, was about the worst of all. They found the water rather cold, and though they all were brave and bold, they didn't just appreciate their recent sudden fall. They heard the ship they'd fallen from go sailing off with distant hum, and then they quickly realized the danger they were in. The waves began to rush and roar so they struck out to swim to shore, all hoping that their battle with the waves they'd safely won their might.

Then Scouty shouted to the rest, "It's hard to swim when fully dressed, but try real hard. Don't give up hope and all will be all right." The others, cheered by what he said, picked up speed and moved ahead. They saw the land draw closer and swam with all their might.

In just about three minutes more they saw a big man up on shore. The Tynmites were wondering if 'twas safe for them to land. What was he doing? Something queer. They watched him close as they drew near, and saw that he was holding ends of long rope in his hand.

"Said Scouty, 'We are caught, I'll bet. He's hauling in a big fish net.' And sure enough, the Tynmites were captured in the thing. The man began to pull in fast. The net came up in sight at last, and to the little strands of rope the bunch began to cling.

It nearly swept them off their feet, but after all, 'twas quite a treat, for they had all grown tired and really felt a touch of fear. Within the net they reached the shore, and then they heard the old man roar, 'My goodness, what a funny catch. What are you doing here?'

(The Tynmites find an alligator in the next story.)

ELBOWS FASHIONABLE
Elbows are again fashionable. A considerable number of new coats have buttoned elbows and the attention given the elbow trimmings by dress designers in all sorts of garments, is a leading point of the latest fashions.

WEAVE A ROPE OF HONESTY FOR CHILD

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

WHEN I was little there were no psychologists, no psychoanalysts, and no psychiatrists. Anything that began with two syllables to those, in these new familiar words would have been interpreted as some new kind of rolling stock.

The harbinger of these later arrivals was the phrenologist, who felt bumps on a child's head and told the anxious parent whether he might expect a horse thief or a president in the family when this young hopeful reached maturity.

Some of the hopefuls did turn out to be horse thieves, perhaps, but some of them turned out to be presidents, and you have noticed that at this "complex" business and "psychiatrists" are practically modern affairs, all of the successful and prominent men of the country, and women too, are products of a time when living was simple and parents considered their duty done by keeping their children warm, fed and clean, and hearing their prayers at night, and bothered not about suppers, thefts or a president in the family.

Simple! Yes, it was simple. And isn't that the very secret of the strength of our great men heretofore and at present? Will our coming generations produce as many leaders? They may. But I predict that if they do it will be in spite of, not because of, our new and rather complicated system of child-training that has grown so intricate it has lost its pattern.

Simply it is hard in an age when life is a sort of Chinese puzzle. You say, "Yes, it isn't quite so easy. Many things are beyond our control." But I think so difficult. We are of our child a strong rope of honesty, decency, fairness, and a pure ambition and tell him never to let go. That ought to take him anywhere, like the rope bridges that swing over the chasms in the Andes.

Life may be complex, but we need not be complex. Let us keep the rope that is probably the key of the whole thing. It is the simplest of all. Must! Teach him that.

FASHION HINTS

SURPLICE LINES
For the mature woman, the surplice bodice gives grace and slenderness.

RAISED FRONT
Draperies, girdles and waistlines in general rise in front, to conceal fullness of the hips and suggest alertness and straightness of poise.

PALE YELLOW
One of the loveliest coats for spring and summer is of pale yellow below the hips a peach shade.

SILK TWILLS
The finer twills such as bengalen will be in favor again this spring. Brown, pencil blue and hunter's green are good colors.

CHIFFON BOWS
A red dance frock in chiffon has a close fitting bodice with a two-floated skirt, and soft, loose bows for trimming at shoulder and hip.

BATH COATS
Striped and plaid coats of cotton ratine are popular for the southern beaches, over wool or satin swimming suits.

Fashion Plaques

BEIGE FLOWER

This huge flower of deep rose georgette (the same material as color as the dress) was worn on the back of the shoulder by Alice Brady in "Lady Alone."

Household Hints

TO KEEP EGGS
When eggs have been broken but cannot be used immediately, place them in a cup and cover with milk or water, to keep them from drying up. Then place on ice.

ASBESTOS MATS
Even the thickest table pad will sometimes fail to keep heat from scorching the finish. Asbestos mats to be bought for ten cents apiece should be placed beneath the hottest dishes, under the cloth.

SMALL QUANTITIES
If you cannot find your own coffee freshly before using, you must buy it in small quantities, to insure perfection of flavor.

PERCOLATED COFFEE
The best percolated coffee is made by using a large quantity of coffee with cold water and allowing it to boil only three minutes.

ICE PIPE
The ice pipe of the refrigerator must be scalded at least once a week, for perfect sanitation.

FIFTH AVENUE FROCKS FEATURE BLACK AND WHITE

If it's black and white, it's sure to be in style at present. Gowns, sports frocks, coats, bathing suits, pocket-books and hats carried out in black and white are being featured by most of the leading Fifth-ave shops this week.

One effective window displays several afternoon gowns made with white georgette or silk crepe jumpers and girls full-length taffeta skirts. The jumpers have bands of self-material draped about the hips, tying at one side. The black taffeta skirts are circular in effect.

Art Exhibit At Lecture By Traveler

Mrs. Anita Willetts Burnham, famous artist, who lectured in Appleton two years ago under the auspices of the Appleton Women's club, will give a talk on her travels at the general meeting of the club at 1:45 Thursday afternoon at the Playhouse. The same talk will be given at the Art Institute in Chicago on Tuesday, Feb. 15.

Mrs. Burnham, her husband and family of four children have traveled extensively in Europe. When the artist came to Appleton in 1925, she spoke to capacity houses about her work and travels.

An exhibit of some of the artist's pictures will be shown at the Playhouse. At the same time, an exhibit will be made of work completed by the Women's club sketch class during the past year. Mrs. Mark Catlin is the teacher of the class. Work of local artists probably will be shown.

Mrs. Burnham will come here through the influence of Mrs. Catlin. Luncheon will be served by the Ladies Aid society of Temple Zion at 12:30 at the clubhouse and a business meeting will follow. The women will then go to the Playhouse for Mrs. Burnham's lecture.

Those who attend the luncheon will not be asked to contribute to the expense of Mrs. Burnham's visit here, the board of directors decided at a meeting this week, but those who come for the lecture only, will be asked to give to a silver offering.

Reservations for Wednesday luncheon should be made by Wednesday noon to the club, it was announced.

KAUKAUNA PINMEN SET FAST PACE IN STATE TOURNAMENT

Minkebege's High Grade Bowling Puts Electric City Among Leaders

Kaukauna—Not content with rolling into first place in the state bowling tournament at Racine, Kaukauna bowlers continued their rampage on the alleys on Monday morning. 11 Minkebege took first place in the all events with a score of 1931 for nine games. Minkebege rolled 661 in the team event, 661 in the doubles and 618 in the singles. H. Minkebege went into the doubles with T. Lambie and together they rolled 1258 for second place. Minkebege getting 631 and Lambie 627. Haaseker and Oudenhoven rolled 1132 in the doubles.

In the past 24 years, since the inauguration of the state bowling tournament back in 1902, only three first place teams have rolled a higher score than the 2992 rolled by the Electric City outfit Sunday evening. The highest score ever rolled in the tournament was made by the Schroeder and Dalys of Milwaukee in 1916 when the team hit 3058. Three years previous to that the Nixons of Milwaukee won the tournament with a score of 3018. These are the only 3,000 scores ever made in W. B. A. state tournament.

In 1923 the Parkway Lunch five of Milwaukee took the state tournament with a score of 2995. It is believed that the Electric City team will finish no lower than third this year and possibly in first.

The singles and doubles scores rolled at Racine were:

19 KAUKAUNA MEN AT STATE SKAT TOURNAMENT

Kaukauna—Nineteen men from Kaukauna and nearby vicinity attended the Wisconsin skat tournament at the auditorium at Milwaukee Sunday. The tournament was the largest ever held in this state with 2,275 playing on Sunday. Three hundred and twenty-five prizes will be awarded within the next day or two. Winner of first prize receives $500. The whole entire prize list amounts to $8,000.

Those from here who attended the tournament were Andrew Eppinger, Joseph Giesbers, Jacob Licht, John Leick, William Bay, Joseph Vanenhoven, Fred Olm, William Powers, William Clune, Daniel Collins, Joseph Zink, William Jirkowicz, Louis Jirkowicz, B. Van Abel, Antone Van de Loop, Ben Van de Yacht, Theodore Eiting, Joseph Wolfinger and Frank Wolfinger.

HIGH SCHOOL SECONDS LOSE TO KILGAS CAGERS

Kaukauna—Kilgas, Cagers won a 7 to 2 basketball game from the Kaukauna school seconds Saturday evening in a preliminary to the New-London-Kaukauna fracas. Most of the Kager's points were made in the last half. A Golden starred for the winners.

BABY CHICK SHIPPING GETS UNDERWAY SOON

Kaukauna—Large shipments of baby chicks are expected to arrive at the local postoffice within the next two or three weeks, according to Postmaster A. R. Mills. Last year by the first of March shipments of chicks were being received every day. Mr. Mills says in the height of the shipping season several hundred chicks are received at the local postoffice daily.

Last year chicks continued to arrive here way into the middle of summer and the percentage of dead chicks in the late shipments was considerably larger than those shipped earlier. Mr. Mills advised that shipments should be made in the early part of the week otherwise the chicks have to stay in the postoffice over Sunday. Postmaster Mills has found that farmers would rather have the local postoffice telephone them of the arrival. Then the farmers come in and get them themselves. In this way the chicks are not jolted along on rural mail routes.

VOTE VACATION FOR HIGH SCHOOL DURING MID WINTER FAIR

Students Vacate Building So It Can Be Used for Fair Exhibits

Kaukauna—Kaukauna High school students will have two additional holidays this year. At a meeting of the board of education Monday evening in the high school offices it was decided to close school Thursday and Friday, March 17 and 18, so the high school building may be used to house school exhibits at the Mid-winter fair. It is quite possible that the two days missed in March will have to be made up later in the school term.

The board voted to pay cash for the musical instruments purchased from the Frank Holton people and thereby save a discount of $27.25. The total cost of the five instruments bought by the high school, less the discount, is $548.

A resolution was adopted referring the Kaukauna Athletic association's bill for the use of the ball grounds for high school athletic games back to the association as being excessive. The bill amounted to $200. This was a larger rental than asked in previous years.

The board voted to extend the Kaukauna Rotary club a vote of thanks for the $250 the club donated to the board for the purchase of musical instruments. Superintendent James Cavanaugh displayed the instruments so members of the board might see them.

The board discussed the advisability of installing the motion picture machine recently loaned by the Kaukauna Industrial Board of Education. As the state laws provide that the machine must be enclosed in a fireproof cage serving board members believed it would be too expensive to have this done. At present there is no fireproof cage in which the machine could be placed.

FIRE DESTROYS BOAT HOUSE ON LOWER RIVER

Kaukauna—The league leading Maytag washers met the Kaukauna Lumbar Co. team runner-up in a Kaukauna Business Men's Bowling league match on the 7 o'clock shift Wednesday evening. On the same shift the Bankers roll the Mulford Clothiers. At 9 o'clock Runt's Grocers will attempt to win from the Pendergast Creams and Andrews Old will meet Bayorgens.

WATER DEPARTMENT AT LITTLE CHUTE GROWING RAPIDLY

Consumers on Dec. 31, 1926, Totaled 174, Village Secretary Reports

Little Chute—The Little Chute water department has grown from 98 consumers to 174 up to December 31, 1926. It now has 152 private consumers and 22 business places. During the year, 76 were added, with quite a number to be connected with the spring opening which will nearly double the amount in 1927. Excess of 2,505,027 gallons of water were consumed during the last year. The metered sales amounted to $1,165.20 and the flat sales were $12.75. The discounts allowed amounted to $89.91. The annual report of the department is being prepared and will be published within a few weeks, according to Martin Van Hoof, village secretary and treasurer.

CHEESE FACTORY REPORT
According to the report of Henry Van Dornen, secretary of the Pleasant View cheese factory, the business done during the last year amounted to $44,920.75. There was 2,281,053 pounds of milk received and 112,728 pounds of butter fat equivalent to 234,995 pounds of cheese which was sold for an average of 20.1 cents a pound. Exactly $3,532.41 was received for cheese and $1,153.33 for whey cream. There were paid $8,815.42 for skimmed milk.

The general average test was 34.98. The price per pound for fat was 47 cents and the price per one hundred for milk was $1.61. The milk of this factory is skimmed and the cream is shipped to Chicago. The milk dealers are demanding the best quality of milk and cream and that requires more work and expense. It is thought that the farmer should get more money for the product and this may be obtained by organizing and requesting a better and more uniform price. The money the farmers received during the last year, varied greatly as much as 50 cents a hundred on the same kind of milk. The reason for this is that a group of farmers will undersell the others which will lower the price. The officers for the year are John Spierings, president; Henry Van Dornen, secretary; Cornelius Van Gompel, treasurer. The factory is owned by Jacob Bierstecker and son Edward. Charles Rader is employed as cheesemaker. Mr. and Mrs. George G. Hermens entertained a number of relatives at their home Sunday in honor of the seventy-fourth birthday anniversary of Mrs. George Coenen. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Timm of Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Coenen, Mr. and Mrs. George Jansen, Mr. and Mrs. August Coenen and son Alphonse, Mr. and Mrs. George Coenen, Mr. and Mrs. John Coenen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry De Bruin, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Diederich, Mr. and Mrs. August Kerten, Gustave Gust, Misses Clara Coenen and Gertrude Diederich, Ralph De Bruen, Stephen Diederich and Otto Coenen.

Miss Bernice De Bruin, Wilson-st., entertained a few friends at her home Sunday in honor of her birthday anniversary. Games were played. The guests included: Misses Mildred Wildenberg, Jeanette De Bruin, Elizabeth De Bruin, Margaret Vanden Heuvel, Ethel Van Gompel, Elizabeth Hammen, Barbara Lucassen and Agnes Hammen.

Announcement was made at St. John church Sunday of the coming marriage of Miss Marie Derks and Henry Peerenboom, both of this village, and Joseph Dooch of Appleton and Miss Madeleine De Coster of this place.

A son was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Bongers, Vanden Brook.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system and thus no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Tells How New Remedy Relieved Suffering And Made Him Well

Aged Appleton man now free of stomach trouble, backaches, headaches, constipation and other complaints.

MR. EVERETT GRANGER

"Dreco has helped me so I've already persuaded several friends to try it and it is a pleasure to give this statement for publication in the newspapers," declared Mr. Everett Granger in a recent talk with the Dreco man at Schlitz Bros. Drug Store. Mr. Granger who lives at 617 N. Appleton-St. this city is now 68 years old and works as gardener every day.

"When I started on Dreco I felt so bad I was losing lots of time from my work. My stomach pained me terribly after meals and was always bloated with gas. No matter how little I ate it felt like lead when it reached my stomach. Even a glass of milk distressed me terribly. I was also troubled with backaches, was always constipated, had frequent headaches, slept poorly at night and was so completely rundown no-one believed I would get well again."

"But Dreco proved just what I needed. It toned up my stomach so that I have an excellent appetite and can eat anything without after distress. My bowels are as regular as the clock, the backaches and headaches have disappeared. I sleep soundly at night, my nerves are steady and I no longer have that drowsy lazy feeling. Dreco has made them all sit up and take notice around my house for they all laughed at me when I first bought it and said I was throwing money away."

It cannot be repeated too often that the stomach is the fountain which supplies every part of the body. If the stomach is sick the brain, liver, bowels and kidneys are all sick. The trouble may all be felt in one spot it may be in the stomach itself, or it may be in the liver, or in the kidneys. It will be felt in the weakest place. It is Dreco corrects the trouble by its prompt action on the stomach.

Mr. H. W. C. Marr Baker, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Schlitz Bros. Downtown Drug Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him.

$473,953.53 IN TAXES COLLECTED MONDAY, JAN. 31

Largest Sum Ever Received in One Day Paid to City Treasurer

A total of $473,953.53, largest sum collected by the Appleton city treasurer in one day, was paid Monday, Jan. 31, the last day for making tax payments, according to Fred L. Bachman, city treasurer. The staff of collectors has been checking the receipts since that time, according to Mr. Bachman, and the totals were reached Monday.

Most of the day's collections arrived by mail, according to Mr. Bachman, and it was necessary to open all the letters and receipts to the treasurer.

Approximately $100,000 of the tax roll of $1,213,553.93 remains to be collected. Some taxpayers still are appearing at the city hall to adjust their accounts. A 2 per cent fee is added to all the tardy payers' tax bills.

The list of delinquent incomes and personal property taxes is being made out and probably will be turned over to the police department for collection by the latter part of the week.

About 425 dog licenses had been issued up to Monday noon. The police department will make a survey of the city in the near future to determine whether all dogs have been licensed. All male dogs and female dogs over six months of age on Jan. 1 require licenses. The cost of the licenses is $1 for males and $2 for females.

played again today and Wednesday. It can be said that the audience, from the amount of laughter and the applause at the finish, agreed with the reviewer that it is one of the most entertaining pictures seen here for some time. It is a feast for the eyes and has a logical story that leads up to a logical finish.

A fortune must have been spent by the producers in the lavish settings of the interiors of the picture. The feminine part of the audience were more than interested in the gorgeous gowns that were worn by a bevy of beautiful models.

The picture tells the story of a little, plain, begoggled office worker who is suddenly made beautiful by a few deft twists of her hair and a borrowed dress from the firm she is working for. This brings her to the attention of several men about town, who take an interest in this unapproachable girl. She is engaged to represent a famous French model who has disappointed a fashionable modiste, and from then on her life is made more than interesting. The story is fast, holds interest and is excellent entertainment.

An excellent cast has been provided by the producers, all well known screen players, including the charming and beautiful Marceline Day, who plays the title role; Bert Lytell, debonair and suave and very likable; Eileen Percy, Crawford Kent, Ward Crane, Leon Holmes and Otto Lederer.

LOAN ASSOCIATION WILL HEAR PLEAS FOR $50,000

Directors of the Appleton Building and Loan association will meet at 7:30 next Thursday evening. The monthly report of the association for January will be given and applications for loans will be heard. It is expected that applications totaling $50,000 will be passed on, according to G. H. Beckley, secretary.

A bureau of identification will be established at the Appleton police department this month, George T. Prim, chief of police, has announced. It will be placed in charge of Sergeant James R. Moore, fingerprint expert.

Measurements, descriptions, fingerprints and pictures will be taken of all persons arrested for state crimes or suspected of crimes of this nature, according to Chief Prim.

"The efficiency of the police department will of course be increased by addition of the bureau," Chief Prim said. "It will facilitate identification of criminals, and will result in conviction of criminals who otherwise might escape punishment."

Pictures, measurements, and similar data of criminals will be filled in a specially constructed cabinet to be purchased by the police department. Descriptions of criminals will be recorded on form cards, and will include such information as name, alias, crime convicted or suspected of, age, height, weight, build, color of hair and eyes, date of birth, color of beard and complexion, date of arrest, special remarks of case, disposition made of criminal and fingerprint classification. The pictures will be taken by a local photographer.

Sergeant Moore, who will operate the bureau, has had six or seven years of experience in fingerprint identification. He is a graduate of the Fingerprint Publishing association course, and has made an intensive study of the work since. In the last few years he has been instrumental in securing the conviction of several criminals through identification by finger prints.

The conviction of Leo F. Leech and his wife, Bessie, in Iowa, less than two months ago was made possible chiefly through finger print measurements taken of them more than a year ago by Sergeant Moore. The couple was arrested here and convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses. They spent a year in the state penitentiary at Waupun, and were arrested in Iowa shortly after their release on another charge. Sergeant Moore also aided in securing the conviction of William Welch last year for a bank robbery in South Dakota.

The police department has been making preparations for establishment of the bureau for several months. Pictures and descriptions of between 35 and 40 criminals already are on file as a nucleus for the bureau, and the number will be increased rapidly in the future as such data hereafter will be secured on all criminals or suspects.

The local bureau will of course cooperate with similar bureaus throughout the state and nation. When over a description of a criminal is obtained, a duplicate copy will be forwarded to Washington. Measurements and descriptions also will be sent here from Washington.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentation in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

BENEFIT SOCIETIES SEEK LEGISLATION

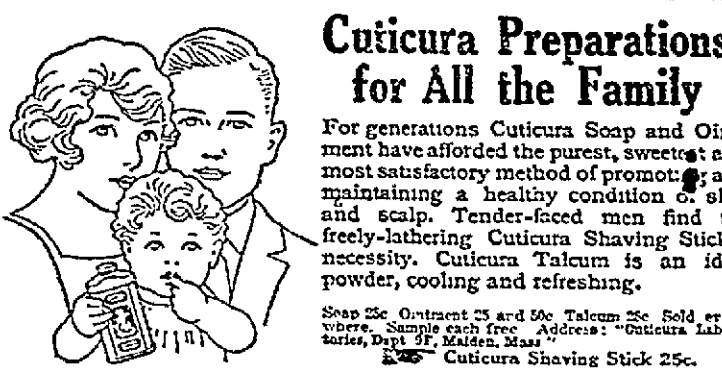

Organization Representatives to Meet at Chicago to Form Association

Representatives of fraternal benefit societies of the upper Mississippi valley states, doing juvenile business, will meet at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago on Thursday, Feb. 23, to organize an association for the purpose of securing satisfactory juvenile insurance legislation, according to G. D. Ziegler, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans. Meetings were held in Chicago on Jan. 6 and 15, both attended by Mr. Ziegler. At these sessions, it was decided to organize the larger group. Mr. Ziegler was appointed a member of the organization committee and with two other men has completed plans for the new association.

The organization will be known as the Interstate Fraternal Juvenile Association. Each society represented will have two regular delegates and other delegates, according to the number of members in the associations. The purpose of the organization is to "work for satisfactory legislation and work against unsatisfactory legislation relative to juvenile insurance." The association will help existing organizations and not act as a rival to them.

Mr. Ziegler will attend the Feb. 21 meeting which opens at 10 o'clock in the morning.

FIRE IS HOT STUFF!

When he was a baby the folks said, "burny, burny", but he never was really sold on the idea that fire was hot until he got burned. All through his boyhood sound advice often went unheeded until a hard knock or burn sent the truth home. Now, as a man, he is still at it—indulging in the fallacy that some few peoples know a magic plan for furnishing insurance cheaper than all the others can.

RIPON SQUEEZES OUT WIN OVER LAWRENCE IN EXTRA PLAY

Bluemen Battle Way To Tie In Final Minutes But Lose 22-20 Fight

Shift of Briese to Offensive Center Starts Rally That Ties Score

Table with 3 columns: Player, W. L., Pct. Rows include Carroll, Lawrence, Lake Forest, etc.

Table with 3 columns: Player, W. L., Pct. Rows include Cornell, Carleton, etc.

After staging a brilliant comeback in the second half and going into a five minute overtime period, Lawrence college basketball team saw its advantage swept away in the final seconds, and went down to defeat before Ripon college at Ripon Monday night 22 to 20.

Ripon this year boasts a big squad that, playing on its own floor, used every advantage to good gain. Starting in shortly after the opening whistle the Crimson "played the corners" and soon worked up a 12 to 5 score at the half.

Personal fouls worked havoc with the Red and white first five, and before the game had progressed far, Lohr and Ure were relegated to the sidelines. The substitutes for these two were far from the first squad caliber but close guarding kept Lawrence from using the advantage to great extent.

For Lawrence, Coach Christoph started his usual first five, Grove and Heidemann, guards, Sundt, center, and Briese, forward. The Lawrence team went in for Sundt and dropped back to play right guard after the tip off, Briese going into the center position. This combination was responsible for the Blue and White comeback in the second period.

Hillman, while not a flashy player gives to the squad a confidence and fight that is lacking when he is on the sidelines. He is always "fighting it up" and with his size is more of a match for long, rangy men that the Ripon squad boasts.

Halverson, who no doubt will be a first choice for all-conference honors in a forward berth, started the scoring when he dropped a basket from out of the corner and Lohr moved the count to 3 when he made one of two attempts following Briese's personal. Lawrence scored a few minutes later when Grove was given a gift shot by Lohr.

Clark fouled Ure who missed the shot as did Grove on Lohr's foul. The Lawrence captain then came back and pushed his team's total up one on Reid's personal. Reid retaliated by working the corner and with Halverson pushed the Ripon score to seven. When three Ripon shots were attempted without interruption Halverson bagged the fourth attempt, to give Ripon nine points.

Halverson and Sundt missed free throws and Sundt added interest to the game with a neat short shot and, when fouled while in the act of shooting, made good both free throws. His four point burst brought the Lawrence score to six. Heidemann missed on Ure's foul and Lohr, after receiving the ball through the Lawrence defense turned and added two more points to the Ripon score. Hillman went in for Sundt and when Briese hacked Lohr the Hank Krimmer center pushed the Ripon score to 12. The half ended Lawrence 6, Ripon 12.

Heidemann started the scoring to open the second half giving Lawrence 3 as Halverson made good on Grove's foul to give Ripon 13. Ure committed his fourth personal foul and Williams went to his position. Briese made the gift shot but Halverson countered with a field goal. Lohr was guilty of four fouls and Oliver went to center for Ripon. Sundt went back into the game for Heidemann.

Hillman counted with a field goal out Hausser cut the advantage in half with a free throw on Briese's foul. Ripon counted again when Halverson walked by Briese to drop a field goal. Three field goals in rapid succession brought Lawrence up into the running although the Blue spent the intervening few minutes floundering around helplessly. The score was then Lawrence 17, Ripon 18.

STRIBLING FAILS TO IMPRESS FANS

Youthful Georgian Shows Up Poorly in Winning from Ed Huffman

New York—(AP)—The figure of William L. (Young) Stribling, stocky boxer from Georgia, cast but a pale shadow over Tex Rickard's heavyweight tournament Tuesday.

Although victorious in his ten-round match with Eddie Huffman, Los Angeles, light heavyweight at Madison Square Garden Monday night, Stribling failed to impress fans with his ability just as he failed in his 1926 fight with Paul Berlenbach for the 175-pound championship. Stribling mauled his way to victory over Huffman in a featureless match, marred by clinching, bounding and acrobatic feats. Stribling from the start waged a defensive campaign that left the spectators yawning. There was little snap in his long left jab, little desire to force the milling.

Huffman plodded forward, rarely landing effectively but continually forcing his way into a defense that he could never quite solve.

REISELT TAKES HARD MATCH TO HOLD LEAD

Chicago—(AP)—The closest battle of his defense of the title left Otto Rieselt, three-cushion billiard champion, still in the lead Tuesday in the National tournament.

He defeated Allen Hall, St. Louis youngster, 50 to 43 Monday night by the remarkable run of three, six, and nine points in his last three innings. Right on his heels is Augie Kieckhefer, a former champion, with four victories to five for Reiselet. Gus Copulos of Detroit, another former champion, climbed into a tie for third place with his third straight victory, when Art Hurnblad, Chicago youngster met his first defeat of the tournament at the hands of Charles McCourt of Cleveland.

Boston—Henry Lamar, Washington, D. C., scored a technical knockout over Whitey Allen, Hyde Park (6.)

on counted again when Halverson walked by Briese to drop a field goal. Three field goals in rapid succession brought Lawrence up into the running although the Blue spent the intervening few minutes floundering around helplessly. The score was then Lawrence 17, Ripon 18.

Briese came through to put his squad out in front for the first time of the evening with a field goal but the advantage was short lived, for when Grove fouled Oliver, the new Ripon center made good his second try and tied the score at 19 all.

Going into the five minute overtime period Sundt fouled Hausser and the veteran Crimson guard put his team one point to the good. Clark tied up the count a few seconds later with a free throw on Martin's foul. Heidemann went in for Clark. Martin then proceeded to place himself in the Ripon hall of fame with a long looping shot that sent the crowd home happy.

Portz, Lawrence reserve forward, suffered a strained back, last week and will be out the Big lineup for several weeks, according to Coach George Christoph. He was out of both the Carroll and Ripon games.

and from present indications the Hoosier quintet will be forced to play its trump cards against the Badgers Tuesday night.

Coach George Keogan's South Bend basketball team has only felt the sting of defeat once this season, and that at the hands of Franklin college, the same team that played havoc with Wisconsin when the Cardinal inaugurated her season.

BENTZ FIGHTING REMINDS MITT FANS OF KAUKAUNA BOY

Rise of Slugging Milwaukeean Recalls Punching of Jack Zwiek

The sensational rise to ring fame of Howard Bentz, protege of Ritchie Mitchell, old Milwaukee mit star, because of his method of battering his opponent with hefty blows from start to finish and his willingness to fight as well as box, recalls to minds of Milwaukee fight scribes the work of Jack Zwiek, once known as the Kaukauna "sheik assassin." Zwiek was a sensation in Milwaukee with his slugging Mary Ann and always could draw a crowd in the Cream City whenever he was booked for appearance. His brother, Phil, seems on the way to eclipse him. Here's what a Milwaukee scribe says about the Kaukauna boy in referring to Bentz:

"For the first time in several years Milwaukee has two splendid fistic drawing cards. Joey Sangor will make the welkin ring in the box office any time he is billed to start and so will Howard Bentz, the bustling baggage buster seen in these parts since Jack Zwiek brought his Mary Ann down from Kaukauna. Jack flashed across the cauliflower patch like a scared rabbit but he was a real sensation as long as he knocked 'em cuckoo. Mr. Zwiek had a most uncanny way of separating young men from their senses. Then one unhappy night up in Fond du Lac some third rater pasted Jack all over Jack Brunkhorst's arena and Kaukauna went back to its business of paper making and forgot all about the trade of other pushing. As a result, Mr. Zwiek, who affected funny looking trousers, never reached the big money.

Bentz is billed to box at the Auditorium Feb. 14 and again on Feb. 21. No doubt he will pack them in on the first date, and if he adds another K. to his record his presence on the second card will swell the receipts to capacity. Solly Seeman and Billy Petrolle meet in the feature event of the Feb. 21 show. The bout is a natural in itself, but Bentz will be the real attraction. This situation recalls the night Jack Zwiek boxed in the semi-windup to the Pinky Mitchell-Tillman bout. Jack was a sensation at the time and the house was packed to the rafters, much to the delight of Messrs. Mitchell and Tillman, who collected the big money. Zwiek, we recall, received only $500. Bentz, will probably receive more than that, but it will be a pittance compared to what the windup principals draw down. However, if Bentz can continue to bowl them over his reward will not be long in coming. All the world loves a swatter whether he's in baseball or in the ring.

FRANK COOKSON STARS ON FONDY HIGH QUINT

Frank Cookson, regular forward of the 1926-27 Appleton high school basketball team, opened his 1926-27 season with Fond du Lac high school, Valley Conference leaders, by scoring five baskets in less than a full game. Cookson became eligible a week ago Saturday at the semester as he had entered Fondy high school in the fall, and he played against Marinette at Marinette Friday night, scoring the five rings before being removed on personal fouls. None of his mates scored more than two rings and a free throw and five of them totaled only seven baskets between them beside Frank's five. He stored 10 of 20 points.

It is expected that the former Orange player will be a great help to the Red in its conference pennant chase with his speed and eye for the hoop. He had been practicing with the team before he was eligible and fitted in well right off the bat. He will face his old teammates in an important struggle at Fondy in two weeks.

INVINCIBLES LEAD IN VOLLEYBALL LOOP

Kimberly—Clyde's Invincibles took two out of three games from the Clubhouse Boosters and Ritten's Boosters forfeited three games by failing to appear to Rayfield's Wonders, Monday evening in the Kimberly Monday evening Volleyball loop. The game the Invincibles dropped to the Boosters was their first loss in twelve games played. The Invincibles still hold first place, the Boosters with seven wins and five defeats hold second, and the Wonders, due to the forfeit by the Boosters hold third just a game ahead of the Boosters.

HERE ON THURSDAY

"SNEAKER" DICK QUINN, MARQUETTE, RIGHT FORWARD.

When the Swendson Fords perform at Armory G Thursday evening against the Basing Sports, cage fans will see in action a pair of stars that have worked together for six years. With the famous Red Dunn is Dick Quinn and this pair were the forwards who carried Marquette University teams to triumphs on the courts for three years, trouncing all college teams they played and even Wisconsin. Now they still are working together in pro ball and fans who have seen them in action say the old combination has lost none of its effectiveness both in trampelay and shooting.

COBB PICKS NEW TEAM, WON'T TELL WHICH ONE

New York—(AP)—Ty Cobb has decided on the club he will play with this year. But he refused Tuesday to indicate which one. He said only that he had made up his mind. The offers to him were known to include $50,000 a year from Dan Howley, manager of the St. Louis Browns, consisting of $40,000 salary and a $10,000 bonus for signing; $50,000 from Brooklyn, made up of a $30,000 salary and a $20,000 bonus and a third the amount unknown, from Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Baseball men and close friends of the Georgian leaned to the opinion that he has decided to cast his lot with the Athletics.

SATURDAY GAMES

Kaukauna Y vs. Vo. D, Citizens vs. Kimberly-Clark.

Falling to display the ability shown in the game against Kimberly-Clark the week before, Co. D's cellar cager, dropped another one-sided game in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial loop Saturday night, losing to the Citizens Bankers, 18-4. The win pushed the Banks up to a third place tie with the Coated Paper men. The other game which probably would have boosted the Coateds up to a lone third within a game of Fox River, was postponed due to sickness in the Riverside ranks.

The Bankers led the Guardsmen, 8-4, at the half and the losers failed to score a point in the final period while the Bankers added five ringers to their total. Wally Voecks was the big star of the game getting seven baskets for 14 of his team's 18 points. Carl Voecks and Schommer each added one a basket. The defensive work of R. Schultz and C. Voecks held the Guardsmen to two first-half baskets by Green and W. Schultz.

Two important games are carded this week when leading contenders clash. Tuesday night the third-place Coated men clash with the second-place Fox Rivers and Saturday the top Kimberly-Clark team hits the third place Citizens. The standings of the leaders will receive a big jolt unless the Baetzmen and K-C's both win. They are the favorites. The Kaukauna Y is favored over Co. D. Saturday though the game should be a tight bat-

CLINTONVILLE WHIPS LENA LEGION QUINT

Clintonville—The Clintonville city team swamped the Lena American Legion squad in a fast game of basketball here Monday evening, 45-32. Clintonville lead all the way and never was in danger of being headed. The score at the half was 26-7 for the home team but the Legionaires staged a rally in the final period to stage the home boys 25-19, but it was long too late.

BENTZ TO BATTLE BACKSIC FEB. 14

Latest Milwaukee Mitt Sensation Booked With Chicago Scrapper

Milwaukee—Howard Bentz, Ritchie Mitchell's sensational middleweight, who has the entire town by the ears has been matched to box Emil Backsich of South Chicago at the Auditorium, Feb. 14. The two boys boxed a sensational draw here six weeks ago, the bout being a thriller from going to a draw. Since then the tall youngster has knocked out the veteran Jack Schoendorf and Buzz Griffiths. Schoendorf has boxed some of the best men in the business while Griffiths has beaten such good boys as Al Van Ryan and Morrie Schuler.

Bentz, following an excellent start as an amateur turned professional less than a year ago. Since that time he has had 13 bouts and eight of them have ended with his man on the floor, listening to the 10 count. He has not been beaten in any of his professional fights, and the only man who gave him any real trouble was Backsich. Bentz thinks he can add him to his list of victims and his friends are offering odds, that he will win by a K. O.

No boxer since Ritchie Mitchell's time has created such a furore as Bentz. His terrific punching has aroused every tight fan in town, and over 500 were turned away from the doors of the Empress theatre, Monday night when he boxed Griffiths. Bentz hits with a sledge like wallop, sure to cave any chin in when it connects. He is extremely fast for a big man, and shoots his punches to the mark with the accuracy of a machine gun. Veterans Milwaukee ring experts think he is the best fistic prospect ever uncovered here.

In addition to this windup Frank Mulken of the Cream City A. C., which is promoting the show, plans to arrange a set of all star preliminaries.

Chicago—Tiger Jack Burns, Chicago, defeated Mike O'Dowd, Louisville (10.) Ed Kelly, Milwaukee, out-pouted Ferdinand Gonzales (6.)

Janesville—Harry Kahn, Milwaukee, knocked out Steve Adams Chicago (3.) Vic Walters, St. Paul, shaded Joe Mandell, Rockford (8.)

LUTZ THIRD AMONG SCORERS OF VALLEY

Orange Forward Behind Testwilde, Herber Five Points from Top

Herber Lutz, Appleton high school forward, held his position as third high scorer of the Valley conference over the last weekend, though the leaders changed places around him and he now is only five points from the top. Fishbeck of Manitowish was second with 36 points, and only two baskets against East Green Bay and as a result dropped to fourth with 40 points, while Testwilde in second with 35 as the result of an idle weekend last week, climbed back to his usual position. He scored six baskets against West Green Bay, though his team lost, 30-24, and took the top with 47 points.

Herber of West was the biggest threat in his team's surprise win over Sheboygan, scoring eight baskets and a pair of free throws for 18 points. This carried him from fourth below Lutz to first place with 41 points. The four leaders are but 7 points apart with Testwilde having 47, Herber, 41, Lutz 35 and Fishbeck 40. Herber will be Green Bay's greatest threat against the Orange here Friday night and the "battle of Herbers" is sure to decide if not second or even first. Orange players will have to watch Herber closely in order to win the game as he is good for most of his team's points and a dead shot from midfloor. Herber has one less basket than Lutz but four more free throws.

ILLINOIS, HOOSIERS WIN IN LOOP GAMES

Chicago (AP)—Illinois and Indiana Big Ten basketball teams Tuesday stood evened as the first half of the conference race ended. The Illinois, who had been handed a one-point defeat by Ohio early in the season, won their championship hopes were bright. They defeated the Hoosiers at Urbana Monday night, 43 to 30.

The Indiana five, outplayed Saturday by Chicago had to take out their vengeance on the lowly Hoosiers. The Hoosiers gave the Gophers their ninth and worst beating Monday night, 42 to 16.

Although the Illinois and Indiana teams gained in percentage by their victories their standing in the conference race was unchanged. They remain tied for fourth place with five victories and two defeats each. Ohio also remains stationary in seventh place, and Minnesota being unable to sink any lower, clung to the bottom rung. Four more Big Ten games are on this week's program, Chicago at Wisconsin, Illinois at Iowa, Northwestern at Minnesota, and Purdue at Ohio State, all on Saturday night.

WARM WEATHER HALTS MADISON SKATE MEET

The summer thaw of the last few days of last week caused the postponement of the district ice skating country Madison Sunday. The meet was set back to Sunday, Feb. 20. Four Appleton boys, Percy Sharp, Walter Bell, Robert Roemer, and Clement Kitzinger, were to compete in the meet but they were notified of the postponement Saturday night. These boys will make the trip on Feb. 20 with the possibility that now that there is more time to prepare several other Appleton stars may enter.

KAUKAUNA PIN STAR LEADS ALL EVENTS

H. Munkelge, star Kaukauna bowler, who aided his team, the Electric Citys, to the top in the five-man event of the state maple tournament at Racine Sunday night by rolling a 661 high series, added further to his laurels when he went into first place in the all-events in the big classic. He shot a total of 1937 to take the position.

APPLETON WOMAN NAMED STATE MAPLE OFFICER

Miss Sylvia Roudabush, well known Appleton woman bowler, was elected president of the Wisconsin State Women's Bowling association at the annual tourney at Green Bay Monday evening. Fond du Lac was awarded the 1928 state tourney and Mrs. Herman Sanders was named president of the association. E. Ellis of Appleton was on fourth place in the singles, moving down from third when E. Schwartz of Kenosha went into first with a 533.

BERLENBACH RETIRES FROM RING TO WOODS

New York (AP)—Paul Berlenbach, former world lightweight champion, who was recently beaten by Mike McTigue in four rounds, announced his retirement from the ring Tuesday to enter the lumber business. "Oom Paul," the "Astoria assassin" beat his way from the amateur ranks to a world championship in five years. His rippling left smash to the body was one of the most feared blows in modern ring history and he was a picturesque and popular figure. His ring earnings are estimated at $250,000.

He abandoned a wrestling career in 1921 for boxing at the instigation of Dan Hickey, his manager. He rapidly acquired a startling knockout record, bowling over 13 opponents while fighting his way to the national amateur championship in 1922. After turning professional in 1923, he knocked out his first ten opponents.

No More Getting Stuck

The newest and perhaps the greatest improvement in the automobile industry is the Scurlock Differential. This big advance in rear axle construction prevents spinning of wheel on ice, snow, mud or sand. It enables you to travel in safety on any kind of road, winter or summer. The Scurlock Differential is now being placed on the market for Chevrolets and Ford passenger cars, trucks and tractors. Distributors are being appointed for every locality.

As the Scurlock Differential prevents skidding accidents, saves time and gasoline, distributors are making big sales to car owners.

The Scurlock Differential is made by one of America's largest manufacturers, and nationally distributed by the Scurlock Differential Corporation, 322 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago. They will be glad to furnish full information to anyone interested.

LADY LUCK, LADY LUCK, WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN?

Dear M. F. J.: For three weeks my neighbor's dog had been keeping me awake nights, and I resolved that if it happened again I would forget all about my scruples for neighborhood peace, and smack my neighbor on the jaw the next time I saw him. And sure enough that night the dog began barking! In anger, I jumped out of bed and switched on the light. Just as I did, a masked burglar jumped backward out of the window. He was just making his entrance. I heard a moan and a howl below. Hurrying down, I found the burglar unconscious. When I picked him up, I found the dog underneath him. Yea, boy! THAT WAS MUIH JACK!

Dear Mr. Judell: One of the kids found a box of chocolates in his ma's medicine chest and he was passing them out free in front of his house. So naturally I went out to get in on the chocolates, and just as I was about to take a bite, my ma she spotted me and yelled: "Hey, Stanley, don't you dare to eat that candy before supper and spoil your meal!" So I did not eat the candy, and the next day it turned out that it was some new way they put up castor oil. Gimmey whilleckers! That was my lucky day!

GIVE FIRST GLASS PROGRAM OF SEASON AT NEW LONDON H. S.

Girls' Science Class Is Organized; Juniors Discuss Promenade

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The first class program of the high school year was presented Friday morning in the assembly room at the school. Those taking part in the morning's event were all members of the junior class, Miss Elizabeth Garot appearing in a reading, "Whispering School," Edna Allen and Alice Fellenz playing a duet, "Humoresque," and Royal Thern and Theodore Widenbeck playing a cornet duet, "The Clover Leaf Forever."

Among the girls of the high school the organization of a girls' science class has caused much interest. The Rev. E. S. Dayton, teacher of science, is in charge of the organization, with the result that the names of 16 members appear on the club list. Eunice Gottgreu was chosen president, with Mildred Lyon as vice-president, and Mable Jannusch and Mildred Sager secretary and treasurer, respectively. Work at this first meeting consisted mainly of a discussion of plans for the year, and a time for meetings will be set at another time. The girls decided that their first course of study will be that of the subject of trees.

DISCUSS JUNIOR PROM
At a recent meeting of the junior class plans for the annual junior prom were discussed. No decision was reached at this time. It will not be known until the next meeting of juniors whether this annual party will be given.

In compliance with the rule that the home team in basketball shall not wear jerseys of the same color as the visiting team, eight new dark red jerseys were recently bought which will be worn by the home cage team. The players will appear in them at the coming game with Seymour High on Friday evening.

LEGION TO GIVE MASK DANCE THURSDAY NIGHT

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The first number of a series of social activities which will be sponsored by the American legion will be held at Legion hall Thursday evening, Feb. 10, when a masquerade dance will be featured. Music will be furnished by the Legion orchestra. The committee in charge consists of Orin Hunter, George Beattie and Urban Gruentzel.

The regular meeting of the American Legion will be held Tuesday evening at Legion hall. All members are urged to be present, as important business matters will be brought up for decision.

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet in Legion hall at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, instead of the regular evening hour 7:30. Plans will be completed for the organization of a Junior Auxiliary with Mrs. Arthur Lash as patron and Mrs. Fred Radtke as assistant. The first meeting of the Junior organization will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon Feb. 12 at Legion hall.

ZERRENNER BOYS PLAY IN GREEN BAY CONCERT

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Forest and Earl Zerrenner sons of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Zerrenner of this city, appeared in a concert given by the Larsen Conservatory of Music at Green Bay on Sunday afternoon. At the concert, which was given at the Green Bay Y. W. C. A. hall, they played two fine selections, "The Song of the Nightingale," and an Irish ballad, "Long, Long Ago." His brother, Forest, accompanied him at the piano. Both Mr. and Mrs. Zerrenner accompanied the boys, returning to this city late on Sunday.

ENGLISH WOMAN JOINS HUSBAND AT NEW LONDON

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Mrs. Edgar Wines, formerly of Somerset, England, arrived here Saturday from New York to join her husband in this city. Mrs. Wines, a close relative of the James Dalley family, began work at the Green Bay Plywood company. Mrs. Wines obtained passage on a ship out of England and after a rough journey across the Atlantic arrived in America which is to be her home.

NEW LONDON PERSONALS

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Louis Polzin, who for three years has been employed in the Fay R. Smith Jewelry and Music store, has resigned his position. Mr. Polzin is undecided what line of work he will renege in, but contemplates entering a radio school for the furthering of his radio education.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fisher of Sheboygan, were weekend guests of relatives in this city.

Mrs. Eugene Weidenbeck of Kaukauna, arrived in this city recently with her infant son, Eugene, Jr. She will remain for some time at the home of her mother, Mrs. Granger, Hancock-st.

Find the last course of course, with ENZO JEL.

HOLD FUNERAL OF CLINTONVILLE MAN

William Glass, 76, Dies Three Days After Heart Attack in Doctor's Office

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville—William Glass, 76, pioneer settler in this community, died at his home here on Friday night. Mr. Glass was stricken with an attack of heart failure last Wednesday afternoon while at a doctor's office in this city. He was removed to his home. Mr. Glass was born in Pennsylvania. He was well known throughout the community. He is survived by his widow, three sons, Louis, George and James, all of this vicinity, and Mrs. Harry Eggleston also living near here. The funeral services were conducted at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the house, and at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church by Rev. N. W. Conkle.

CLINTONVILLE LOSES
The Clintonville high squad lost a close contest to the Menasha high eagles, 8 to 7 at Menasha Friday evening. Menasha led at the half, 6 to 2, but Clintonville soon cut it down to a tie, though the team had the drive to Clintonville played G. and W. Martin and Kruse was outstanding for the local team. Below was a trifle lacking on defense, but he scored three points as did W. Martin. Menasha had numerous chances to run up scores on free throws but failed to collect over four points in this manner. Clintonville played G. and W. Martin, and Bahr at forwards, Kruse and Below, center, Dille, Below, and Sievers at guards. Menasha used Vetter, Godhardt and Heis, forwards, Klutz, center, Ryan, Klepfel and Webster, guards.

For sidewalkers in this city have caused a number of accidents. Miss Margaret Monty fell Thursday and severely wrenched her elbow, and Mr. Kenneth Vinton dislocated his knee. The freshman class of the Clintonville High school held a party at the local gymnasium Friday.

Report cards were handed out to the students of the local high school Friday.

Leslie Elsburg is confined to his home with the grippe.

Krause of New London; and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stern of New London.

Mrs. Amelia Washburn was a New London caller Wednesday.

HOLD HENDRICKSON RITES AT WAUPACA

Funeral Is Held Monday Afternoon at Holy Ghost Church at Waupaca

Waupaca—Funeral services for Peter Hendrickson, 55, whose body arrived here Friday from Lenindale, Alberta, Canada, were held Monday at Holy Ghost church, Rev. K. M. Mathieson officiating.

He was born at Oedensburg, Waupaca-co, in 1872. About twenty years ago he went to Idaho where he took a claim and remained several years. Later he returned to Waupaca and six years ago went to Alberta where he settled in a new country, 550 miles from Edmonton.

While he and a pal were hunting on Jan. 27, his friend accidentally shot him through the right lung. Mr. Hendrickson lived long enough to clear his friend of any suspicion. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. James Tasmussen, on Lakeview, a brother, Henry, died about a year ago.

No Fear Now of Offense!

So Sweet and Clean Inside! No Offensive Vapors From the Pores

Once a person realizes the wonderful properties in cascara, no other laxative in the market would ever be considered.

It's no trick to "clean out the bowels." Dozens of things will do that. But a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew! The old-fashioned way was "sals." They get action, but they take the mucous membrane along with the waste matter! Mineral oils are gentler, but they leave the bowels with a film of poisons for the blood to carry off through the pores. But when you cascade the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

If you have the habit of taking medicine for constipation, or even for auto-intoxication, stop it. For a candy cascara is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them, and the taste tempts most grown-ups to have more.

And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascara tonight—see how you feel next day, and for days after! With the skin fresh and fragrant. All druggists, 10c and 25c.

"MY OLD DREAD of unpleasant vapors when I was excited or warm used to spoil a party for me. It was even worse after a purging. It was a good friend who told me the wholesome sweetening of one or two—"

NEARLY 200 CASES OF SICKNESS FOUND BY SCHOOL NURSES

More Than 1,500 Children Weighed and Measured in January

Measles and colds make up the majority of illnesses in the January report of the city school nurses. Miss Mary Orblson and Miss Jane Barclay. There were 71 cases of measles and 59 colds. Whooping cough was next with 57 cases, and chicken pox followed with 12.

Instruction for correction of defects in 12 children was given. One case of mumps, two of pneumonia, six of influenza, two of mental disease, one of cardiac disease, and four cases of other diseases were found. There were 23 undiagnosed cases. 27 persons were visited who were not ill. There was one orthopedic case, and four of other surgical cases. Two hundred and twenty-four homes were visited. 252 patients visited, and 18 patients were not found at home.

One disabled person was reported. 19 patients were accompanied to the doctor, hospital or clinic. Of the 1,543 children weighed and measured, 152 were 10 per cent or more underweight, and 57 were 20 per cent or more overweight. The report stated. There were 1,359 pupils of normal weight. Thirteen schools were visited, and 82 school visits made. Partial inspection was made of 83 pupils, and complete inspections to 275. There were 52 individual conferences. One child was examined by a physician. There were seven children excluded from school, 27 notices sent to parents, 12 classroom talks made, and one group talk to parents at school. Eighteen pupils were given first aid, and five temperatures taken.

In skin diseases, seven had rash, scabs, etc., and two pediculosis. Defective teeth were found in 94 children, and 17 of these were corrected. Of 52 cases of defective tonsils, six were corrected. There were nine cases of nasal breathing reported, six of discharging ears, eight of hearing defects, 12 of defective eyes, ten of defective thyroid glands and four of cervical glands. Of 26 cases of defective vision reported, five were corrected, and of 11 speech defects, two were corrected. There were 26 office interviews held, and 105 telephone calls answered. Three letters and pamphlets were sent and one interview was held not specified under home or school. Two clinics or health centers were visited and four visits made at these. Seventeen children were cared for at the school dental clinic. Nine nurses' meetings were attended, and 44 persons addressed.

CHURCH VOTES SALARY INCREASE TO PASTOR

Members of the building and grounds committee are Albert C. Roehl and Edward Deichen and the ushering committee consists of George E. Wait, Jr., chairman; Harry W. Cameron and Arthur F. Wendt.

Why Have Gray Hair?

Don't think your hair need remain streaked with gray—even very gray. For over ten years men and women whose hair was once blonde, auburn, brown or black have successfully used Kolor-Bak to restore color to their gray hair. Today they haven't the slightest visible trace of gray. Nor can you tell they ever used anything on their hair. Kolor-Bak is a clean, colorless liquid that has restored youthful appearance to hundreds of thousands. As easy to apply as water. It requires no experimenting with samples of your hair. Just ask your dealer for Kolor-Bak. The one bottle is for full hair, no matter what shade of color. Results often appear in a week. And with the disappearance of the gray hair, the tonic properties of Kolor-Bak make it essential to use for dandruff and falling hair. Its tremendous success is clearly shown by the sale of nearly 2,000,000 bottles, which proves its superiority. Dealers everywhere sell Kolor-Bak with guarantee to return your money if it does not bring desired results. No excuse now for any woman to look old, or any man to be considered too old for employment. Your druggist, or any store where toilet goods are sold, carries Kolor-Bak. Ask for it today.

PLAN TELEGRAPH SWIMMING MEET

A telegraphic swimming meet for girls may be sponsored by the Appleton Women's club at the Y. M. C. A. pool and the Green Bay Columbus club at the clubhouse in March or April. Miss Agnes Vanneman, recreation director at the club, announced. Negotiations are now under way for the meet. Only speed events will be entered in the contest and the results will be telegraphed.

Advanced swimmers have been asked to come to the pool at 7:45 Wednesday evening to start work. Special work will be done by the director with candidates who are not able to come at that time. Other classes for swimmers will be held each week as scheduled.

LENROOT TO PRACTICE LAW IN U. S. CAPITAL

With Senator Irvine L. Lenroot being mentioned in Washington reports for some important appointment by President Coolidge, his friends have learned that he plans to go into a Washington law firm at the conclusion of his term March 4. He is said to have received a more lucrative offer from a law firm in New York, but decided to remain in Washington because that has been his home for so many years and for the further reason that Mrs. Lenroot has not recovered sufficiently in health to warrant a change.

The senator's closest friends have been advised of his decision to practice law in Washington. They feel that, by reason of his influential contacts and wide acquaintance in the east, Washington offers an inviting field.

Senator Lenroot was a court reporter in Superior when he entered politics. He passed the examination to practice law but went in for a public career.

The senator will continue his legal residence in Superior, leaving him free to re-enter Wisconsin politics if he so desires.

DIRECTORS MEETING

Appleton women attended the meeting of the board of directors of the Wisconsin State Bowling association in Green Bay Monday afternoon and the general meeting of the association Tuesday evening. Mrs. Sue Jentz and Miss Sylvia Roudsbush are directors of the organization.

ROSEBUSH HEADS SECOND MEETING OF GREEN BAY SCHOOL

Appleton and Green Bay Co-operate in Offering Instruction to Foremen

J. G. Rosebush, president of the Northern Paper Mills of Green Bay, will preside at the second meeting of the Foreman's Safety school at Green Bay on Feb. 11. E. C. Young of the Kimberly-Clark Paper company of Kimberly will address the fourth meeting of the Green Bay school on Feb. 28. The Green Bay school is concurrent with Foreman's Safety school here which will open Wednesday night.

The Green Bay school opened Monday evening with an enrollment of more than 300. George P. Hambricht, state director of vocational education and Walter S. Smith, manager of the safety division of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce were the speakers. The Appleton and Green Bay schools were started by Harry Menzel, representative of the Wisconsin Industrial commission.

Many of the speakers who will appear on the program at Green Bay also will speak here.

The only other city in the state which offers a foreman's safety school is Milwaukee where the total enrollment is 6,200. Mr. Heltz will give an address to the Milwaukee school late in February.

Industries are cooperating in the school here and the number of men from each enrolled are: Scodding Locks Hairpin company, 4; Appleton Wood Products company, 4; Appleton Coated Paper company, 3; Northern Boiler and Structural Iron Works, 3; Kimberly-Clark Paper company, Neenah plant, 15; Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company, 24; Thimney Pulp and Paper company, Appleton plant, 6; Thimney Pulp and Paper company, Kaukauna plant, 17; Ornamental Iron and Brass Works, 2; Valley Iron Works, 10; Telulah Plant of the Fox River Paper company, 5; Wisconsin Wire Works, 1; Fox River Tractor company, 2; Combined Locks Paper company, 6; Kimberly-Clark Paper company, Kimberly mills, 25 electric and water department of the city of Kaukauna, 4; Appleton branch of the Wisconsin Telephone company, 6.

EAGLES VOTE ON AUXILIARY

Whether Appleton Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles is to become a member of the national organization will be decided at the meeting of Fraternal Order of Eagles at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in Eagle hall.

A report will be given by the On-to-Milwaukee committee on the progress of the marching club which was organized a few weeks ago. The committee is to arrange for a series of dances and parties to raise money to send the club to Milwaukee for the national and state convention Aug. 8 to 13. Members of the committee are Elmer Koerner, Otto Tilly, Frank Rammer, Arthur Daelke and Walter Koester.

TEN CONTRACTORS WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

At least ten Appleton contractors will attend the annual convention of the Wisconsin Master Builders' association at Green Bay starting Wednesday and continuing through Friday. It is expected that more than 1,000 persons will attend.

Instead of the usual large number of speakers, a new program system is to be tried. A large number of topics will be introduced at the general meetings and one of the topics will be chosen for general discussion. Only one speaker is to be included in each daily program.

Appleton contractors have prepared several resolutions which will be presented at the business sessions of the convention for approval.

Those from Appleton who have definitely decided to attend the meetings are Herman Schultz, William Schmiede, Herman Beske, Earnest Neff, Fred Lillge, Louis Waltman, John Leonhardt, Lawrence Koepke, Robert Schultz, Martin Boldt and Henry Hegner.

The nests of a species of Chinese swallows are deemed great delicacies by epicures, and are used for flavoring soup.

DEMONSTRATE MACHINE FOR PHONE CO. WORKERS

A new transmission machine was demonstrated to wire chiefs of the Appleton district of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., at a dinner and meeting at the Conway hotel Monday evening. The event also was in the nature of a farewell party for A. Sharret, who has been promoted from the transmission department of this district, to the methods department of the main office in Milwaukee.

SMITH IS REELECTED PRINTING CO. HEAD

David Smith was reelected president and general manager of the Badger Printing Co. at the annual meeting of stockholders Monday evening at the Conway hotel. Other officers elected were Herman Schommer, vice president and treasurer; James H. Balliet, secretary.

Licensed at Waukegan A marriage license was issued this week at Waukegan, Ill., to Stephen Siebers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Siebers of Kaukauna and Miss Bernadine Wurl of Green Bay. Miss Wurl is employed at the Wisconsin Telephone Co. at Appleton.

Meeting of Teachers The school music clinic will be discussed at the meeting of fifth and sixth grade teachers with Dr. Earl L. Baker, supervisor of public school music, Wednesday afternoon at the Lincoln school building. The clinic will be held at Lawrence Memorial chapel March 9, 10 and 11.

AN EASY WAY TO LOSE FAT

The right way to lose fat is by combating the cause. By correcting a gland which largely controls nutrition. No abnormal exercise or diet is required. Simply take Marmola Prescription Tablets, four a day, until proper results are accomplished.

Marmola is the scientific method. It has been used for 19 years. The normal figures that it brings are seen in every circle now. And the use has grown, through those results, to very large proportions. All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box. Each box contains a pamphlet which explains the results you see and feel. Go get it now. Learn what others know about it. You will be delighted.
